LBJ Announces Lodge To End Vietnam Tour

Johnson Drafts Bunker

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—President Johnson announced today that veteran diplomatic troubleshooter Ellsworth Bunker will succeed Henry Cabot Lodge as U.S. ambassador to South Vietnam in the near future.

Bunker, who will be 74 years old in May, will have as his deputy Eugene M. Locke, a Dallas, Tex., lawyer who has been U. S. ambassador to Pakistan since last year.

BUNKER DRAFT

The President sprang a nationally televised surprise by inserting the announcement into a speech before a joint session of the Tennessee legislature in which he replied to critics of his Vietnam policies.

Without giving a date, Johnson said that Lodge was "coming to the end" of his second tour of duty as the U. S. envoy in Saigon and that the President was "drafting" Bunker to succeed him.

Bunker, who holds the title of ambassador-at-large, or roving ambassador, is married to the former Carol Laise who is U. S. ambassador to Nepal. They were married late last year.

STAFF ADDITIONS

The President also said that Robert Komer, his special assistant for non-military matters on South Vietnam, would be spending more time there and intensifying his efforts. Johnson said he also was sending "additional top-flight military personnel" to the battle areas to assist Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the U. S. commander in Vietnam.

His address contained little or nothing that had not been said before. However, he made a point-by-point defense of the nation's policy toward Vietnam and concluded with yet another statement that the United States is ready to talk peace.

'SIMPLE MESSAGE'

Johnson said he wished it were within his power "to assure that all those in Hanoi could hear one simple message—America is committed to the defense of South Vietnam until an honorable peace can be negotiated."

The chief executive said that "if this one communication gets through and its rational implications are drawn, we should be at the table tomorrow."

He reported that Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara,

SILVEIRA RANCH'S FRONTAGE EXEMPT

Board's 3-0 Vote Changes 1966 Minutes Despite Planner's Map, Warning On Suit

By RICHARD LYTTLE

It was just a little change on county supervisors' minutes of a year ago, but it made a big difference for a large Marin land holder, allowing a reduction of $1.1 million in appraised value of his property.

Supervisors Peter H. Behr and Thomas T. Storer, who were not present at the meeting in February, 1966, abstained yesterday from the vote to change the minutes.

At that meeting, the board fixed the boundaries of agricultural reserves, including the Silveira home ranch on the east side of highway 101 north of St. Vincent's Hill. The planning commission recommended that 1,800 feet of highway frontage not be included in the reserve, since its potential as highway frontage was too great.

Rowland Darnell of the county planning department showed the board the map of boundaries yesterday, the same map shown at the hearing a year ago. The strip was not included.

Anthony Silveira, appearing before the board yesterday, said he thought the strip was included and did not find out it was not until he tried to contract to put it into reserve with the rest of the Silveira home ranch.

PUT IN NOTICE

The legal notice for that hearing before the board included all property up to the highway.

Involved is 95 acres. If not in reserve, it would be given a total appraised value of $12,000 an acre, Asst. Assessor Herschel Johnson said today. In the reserve, it will be valued at $180 an acre.

Taking total value of the 95 acres, the difference comes to $1,133,000 in appraisal of the property.

Johnson was present at yesterday's discussion, but no one asked him how much was at stake.

HUSHED BY COUNSEL

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen said he "distinctly remembered" that the strip was made part of the preserve. "That certainly was my intent," he declared.

Kettenhofen wanted to explain his thinking further on the matter, but County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney advised him not to speak, saying there was a great deal of money involved and there might be a taxpayer's suit over the issue.

Voting with Kettenhofen to "correct" the minutes were Supervisors William A. Gnoss and John F. McInnis, the latter not a member of the board when the first action was taken. Maloney advised him that it was all right for him to vote.

Plot Witness Admits Using Psychiatrist

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — A defense attorney for Clay L. Shaw today launched an attack pegged to God and psychiatry to try to discredit a witness who identified Shaw as a conspirator in a plot to kill President Kennedy.

Attorney F. Irvin Dymond questioned Baton Rouge, La., insurance salesman Perry R. Russo about his belief in God, psychiatric treatment he underwent in the past, and his conduct as a high school and college student.

The 25-year-old Russo was revealed during yesterday's opening session of a preliminary hearing for Shaw as Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's "confidential informant" to a conspiracy against Kennedy two months before the president was assassinated in Dallas Nov. 22, 1963.

Russo testified that Shaw, 54, former managing director of the New Orleans International Trade Mart, conspired with Lee Harvey Oswald and David W. Ferrie to kill Kennedy in September of 1963, in a meeting he overheard at Ferries' apartment.

As Russo took the stand today for cross-examination Dymond approached the witness chair and asked point blank: "Do you believe in God?"

"It would depend on definition," Russo said.

"How do you define God?" Dymond asked.

"I define God as the entity of the universe," said Russo.

Dymond asked Russo what was the significance of the oath he took to tell the truth in accordance with his religious beliefs.

"It would be to tell the truth..."Russo replied.

Kaeppel Fills Hub Administrator Job

Alfred C. Kaeppel, San Anselmo city controller, was given the additional job of city administrator on a permanent basis last night.

Kaeppel has been acting administrator in addition to controller since the Jan. 1 resignation of Administrator Douglas J. Flautt.

He was chosen during a closed session of the San Anselmo City Council following its regular meeting last night. Mayor John M. Reichmuth and Councilman Arthur W. Smith reported today the choice was unanimous.

The council had been split 3-2 on whether to hire a new administrator or get along without one, with Smith and Councilman Robert M. Scott in the minority. Decision to give the job to Kaeppel overcame the objection to adding another man to the city payroll.

The council sifted 39 applications for the job and had narrowed the field to five, Smith said, in closed sessions. On reviewing the finalists last night, he said, "we felt Mr. Kaeppel was the man for us."

Smith denied the appointment was a compromise, but Reichmuth conceded "you could call it that."

Formal action on the appointment will be taken at the March 28 council meeting. Kaeppel's appointment is effective April 1 at a salary of $1,200 a month.

ALFRED C. KAEPPEL
Two jobs for keeps

Kaeppel said today he will continue to run the controller job with the aid of two part-time assistants, hired when he took over as acting administrator.

Reichmuth admitted cost was a consideration in the council decision, but said "many other things must be considered" in hiring for a position like city administrator.

Kaeppel was hired as controller in 1961 after serving as business manager at Alcatraz Prison for 12 years. He had been with the federal prison system since 1935 except for World War II military service. He was an auditor and purchasing agent in Washington, D.C., before the Alcatraz post.

The city council last year became embroiled in an argument over Flautt's residence outside the city, despite a provision in the ctiy manager ordinance that the official must reside in San Anselmo. Flautt's home is in the Terra Linda annexation to San Rafael.

The council, over vigorous objections by some citizen groups, amended the ordinance to delete the residence requirement.

Kaeppel also lives outside San Anselmo. He and his wife reside at 226 Orange Blossom Lane, Terra Linda.

An Arrogant Young Man—Adlai Of JFK

NEW YORK (UPI) — Adlai Stevenson declined to help a 1960 movement to deny the Democratic presidential nomination to John F. Kennedy even though Stevenson regarded Kennedy as "an arrogant young man" who should not be nominated.

This assertion appears in a book by William Attwood titled "The Reds and the Blacks," to be published tomorrow by Harper Row. Attwood, now editor-in-chief of Cowles Communications, Inc., had been a speech writer for both Stevenson and Kennedy and served Kennedy as ambassador to Guinea and Kenya.

The author said he took a leave of absence from Look magazine in 1960 to work for Stevenson as a speech writer, "not to help him get the nomination but to help defeat" Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the eventual Republican presidential nominee.

He said Stevenson advisers tried to persuade the 1952 and 1956 Democratic nominee to lead a ticket with Kennedy as vice president. Stevenson, who was later to be the U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations under Kennedy and President Johnson, maintained he would not seek the nomination a third time.

Attwood said he went to Libertyville, Ill., to visit Stevenson at his farm May 18, 1960, after Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev had broken up the Paris summit conference because of the U2 spy plane incident.

"After we had watched Khrushchev on television the phone began ringing," Attwood wrote. "Lyndon Johnson called about issuing a joint Democratic Party statement—and about the chances of stopping Kenne-

Postal-Order Game Is Laid To Dodd

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Sen. Thomas J. Dodd approved using U.S. money orders to cover up the source of funds to pay for personal expenses, including a trip to a West Virginia race track, Dodd's former bookkeeper testified today.

Michael V. O'Hare who was fired by the Connecticut Democrat last year, told the Senate Ethics Committee that Dodd told him he didn't want "political checks" from a 1963 reception on Dodd's behalf to show that the money was being used for personal expenses.

The money order device, O'Hare said, was set up so that the funds could not be traced to the bank in which the contributions were deposited.

Before O'Hare took the stand, a former secretary in Dodd's office told of typing a letter addressed to President Johnson praising the ambassadorial qualities of an executive of a firm which gave the senator $8,000 in cash.

Pert Terry Golden told the committee the letter was on behalf of A. N. Spanel, board chairman of the International Latex Corp.

WENT ON TRIP

O'Hare testified that he accompanied Dodd to Hartford for a 1961 testimonial dinner armed with an accumulation of Dodd's bills—"household bills, personal bills, some for office expenses." The next day, O'Hare said, he accompanied Dodd to New York where the senator wrote checks against proceeds of the dinner to pay the bills.

O'Hare said that proceeds of the 1963 Washington reception were deposited in a District of Columbia bank.

Miss Golden related that the letter to the White House was dictated to her by David Martin, one of Dodd's assistants. It happened in late 1964, she said, just after Dodd had been reelected to his second term.

NO EMOTION

Dodd, who fired her in October, 1965, sat a few feet away, impassively puffing on his pipe and looking at his former employee without a trace of emotion.

Miss Golden was one of the four disenchanted employees who stole more than 4,000 documents from the Senator's office which led to charges that Dodd pocketed for his own use campaign funds; double-billed on air fares; and was guilty of conflict of interest. Dodd's lawyer, John F. Sonnett, apparently was caught by surprise by her testimony.

Terrorists Bombard U.S. Base

SAIGON (UPI)—Viet Cong terrorists bombarded the big U.S. air base at Da Nang with Russian-made rockets early today but almost instant retaliation by U.S. troops sent them fleeing into the hills, leaving much of their equipment behind. Other terrorists struck in Saigon.

Viet Cong agents set off a plastic bomb in a basket outside a Korean military billet during the evening rush hour, killing an elderly Vietnamese woman and wounding four other persons including two members of the South Korean armed forces. Police said a second person may have been killed.

It was the second time within a month the Da Nang base was hit. This time the Communists killed no one although they wounded 16 Americans and damaged three planes, one a Phantom jet taking off for North Vietnam with a load of bombs.

Marines tracking the Viet Cong rockets and mortars with radar devices returned the fire within a matter of seconds, halting the erratic Communist barrage and sending the Reds

Voters Approve School Package

SAN BERNARDINO (AP) — Voters in this community's unified school district have approved—by a wider than expected margin—three financial measures to finance a $45.7 million building program.

The issues passed by a better than 70 per cent margin, which officials termed remarkable in view of what they called the "negative climate" for school finances in California. In many communities finance measures have failed to pass.

The vote Tuesday will permit rehabilitation or replacement of schools found unsafe in an engineering investigation last September and clears the way for construction of 10 elementary schools, three junior high schools, one or two senior highs, site acquisition for future schools and a site for a new administration building.

10,000 Escapers Join Mao's Foes

HONG KONG (UPI)—More than 10,000 prisoners placed in Kwantung Province concentration camps by Mao Tse-tung broke out recently in a mass escape and have joined anti-Mao forces in the area, a Hong Kong newspaper said today.

The rightwing newspaper New Life Evening Post, quoting unidentified arrivals from China, said shots were heard in the vicinity of the Chekma Concentration Camp in Tungkuon County near Canton.

It said troops loyal to Mao have mounted a door-to-door search in hope of recapturing at least some of the escapees.

State College Enrollment Assured In Budget Accord

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — No qualified student applying for enrollment in a state college will be turned away thanks to a $19 million budget increase agreed upon yesterday.

State College Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke said Gov. Ronald Reagan has agreed to raise his original budget request for state colleges to $187.3 million.

"The governor and the director of finance have begun to appreciate the serious fiscal dilemma the state colleges were in," Dumke said.

The $172 million figure originally proposed by Reagan would have necessitated a cut in enrollment of about 20,000 students and would have severely hampered efforts to recruit new faculty, college officials said earlier.

Even with the new figure, Dumke warned he would have "to monitor carefully" the admission of students to make sure the 18 campuses do not enroll more students than they can handle.

In Sacramento, Assembly Speaker Jesse Unruh called Reagan's action "a statesmanlike return to reason."

Dumke said plans could now proceed "full speed ahead" for hiring the 590 new professors needed to teach the 189,000 students expected to be enrolled in state colleges.

But the chancellor added the compromise budget was still not sufficient to cover construction of several proposed new buildings.

"We will continue to press the legislature for an additional $14 million," Dumke said.

Rafferty Promises To Back Kuchel, If

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Dr. Max Rafferty, the state school chief, promised today to support U.S. Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., if Kuchel wins renomination in 1968.

"I now urge you to ask Mr. Kuchel if he will do the same if any other Republican beats him," Rafferty wrote James W. Halley, state Republican chairman.

JFK Rests In New Arlington Grave

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The bodies of the late President John F. Kennedy and his two dead children were quietly moved about 40 feet to their permanent graves in Arlington National Cemetery late yesterday.

Under cover of darkness and without word to the public, workmen raised the caskets from their previous temporary sites and reburied them a short distance downhill in the center of the still unfinished memorial to the murdered President.

The eternal flame earlier was moved to its new place within the Memorial Plaza rear.

Kennedy's infant son Patrick Bouvier Kennedy, who died Aug. 9, 1963, two days after birth, and an unnamed girl, stillborn Aug. 23, 1956, lie with him.

Reagan Will Not Enter Senate Feud

By DeVAN L. SHUMWAY

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Ronald Reagan refused yesterday to become involved in a race for the U.S. Senate between incumbent Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel and public instruc-superintendent Max Rafferty.

He made it clear he had no plans to ask Rafferty to withdraw from the race, which the educator has said he may enter if he gets financial backing.

"I am neither going to ask anyone not to get into the race or ask someone else to get into the race," Reagan told a news conference. "I am neutral on the surface and underneath as far as this primary is concerned."

RAFFERTY'S IF

Rafferty told UPI earlier this month that he would not challenge Kuchel in the June 1968 primary if Reagan or U.S. Sen. George Murphy urged him to stay out of the race.

Told of Reagan's latest comment, Rafferty said: "I think he's consistently and eminently correct."

Kuchel has not announced plans to bid for another term but has left little doubt that he will be a candidate.

The governor also said he did not plan to invite Kuchel to be a member of his "favorite son" slate of delegates to the 1968 Republican National Convention because Kuchel probably will be a primary election candidate.

Both Rep. Alphonzo Bell, head of the GOP state congressional delegation, and Lt. Gov. Robert H. Finch have urged Reagan to head a favorite son delegation with Kuchel as one of the leaders.

FINCH SAFE

A newsman raised the point that to exclude primary election candidates from the delegation would automatically forbid membership to all incumbent congressmen and state assemblymen.

"I'm going to have to sit down and think about it," Reagan replied. "I don't know how many of those will be involved in primaries with other party personnel. I've never been a favorite son before."

Asked if he planned to pick Finch as a delegate, Reagan replied: "Now that sure ought to be safe."

Reagan Will Trim 3,000 Employees

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Ronald Reagan will fire nearly 3,000 state employees over the next few months in his most stringest economy move since taking office two months ago.

The cutback was announced last night by Philip M. Battaglia, Reagan's executive secretary, who said it would save the state more than $20 million in payroll expenses.

"This is in no sense a mass layoff," Battaglia said in his surprise announcement.

"It is deliberately being programmed over many months to allow us to do everything possible to place those affected either in private sector jobs or in jobs that must be filled in state government."

The state has about 110,000 civil service employees and Reagan froze new hiring shortly after he took office. Battaglia said the freeze would remain in effect.

In other economy moves since he took office Reagan had trimmed state spending by 10 per cent, sold the state-owned Grizzly II executive airplane, prohibited non-essential out-of-state travel by state employees and forbidden new purchase of office equipment.

Hardest hit by the new cutback will be the department of mental hygiene, where 2,632 workers will be fired.

Other areas affected are the departments of corrections, where 140 positions will be eliminated; general services, 80, and industrial relations, 40.

But he said the mental hygiene hospital population had been trimmed from 33,000 in 1964 to 20,000 during the fiscal year beginning July 1.

"We have already been in contact with California business and industry and expect complete cooperation in placing workers who will leave the state service," Battaglia said.

Drop In Savings, Loan Interest Rates Forecast

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Savings and loan interest rates should drop in July from the present 5.25 per cent, the head of the nation's largest savings and loan holding company predicted Tuesday.

S. Mark Taper of Los Angeles, chairman of First Charter Financial Corp., said this should also bring down the current prime interest rate on mortgages of 6.5 per cent.

Taper said the inflow of savings to First Charter this year has been so great that it has significantly increased loan volume and paid back $50 million of federal reserve funds.

He told a news conference he expected no change in interest rates for either savers or borrowers during April.

First Charter owns the American Savings and Loan associations operating in northern and southern California.

Senate Votes To Toughen Prison Raps

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Administration - backed anti-crime proposals to increase penalties for some felonies rested in the Assembly today after surviving heavy verbal fire in the senate.

The senate passed by 25-11 votes yesterday three bills that would provide life in prison terms for persons armed with deadly weapons who inflict great bodily harm while committing burglary, robbery or rape.

The floor sponsor, Sen. George Deukmejian, Long Beach, said the stiffer penalties would deter "ruthless and cold blooded" criminals and keep them longer behind bars.

But one of the opponents, Sen. George Moscone, D-San Francisco, said it was "panic legislation."

In effect the legislation would increase minimum penalties for the crimes to 7 years in prison from 20 months. The present penalty for first-degree burglary, robbery or rape is 5 years to life. A person ordered to serve 5 years can be paroled in 20 months, while a person sentenced to life can be released after 7 years.

Similar legislation was passed by the legislature two years ago but died in Gov. Edmund G. Brown's pocket veto.

dy. Mrs. Roosevelt called too.

" 'She wants to throw me to the wolves,' " Attwood said Stevenson told him. " 'But can Kennedy be stopped now?' "

The author said Kennedy visited the Stevenson farm three days later and asked "his support in exchange for any job he wanted." He said Stevenson, who died in London in 1965, declined and said later he was "not sure" whether "he even wanted to be secretary of state under Kennedy."

Attwood said he later met with Kennedy at the home of Ben Bradlee, a close friend of Kennedy. He said Kennedy asked him bluntly what Stevenson was planning. Attwood said he explained that Stevenson wanted to keep himself available in the event the convention deadlocked but would not oppose Kennedy or any other candidate seeking the nomination.

Attwood said he sent Stevenson a memo on the meeting with Kennedy to which Stevenson replied: "How could I ever go to work for such an arrogant young man?"

After the convention, Attwood wrote, relations between Kennedy and Stevenson were smoothed over and Stevenson campaigned actively for Kennedy, making more than 75 speeches for him.

"Kennedy bore no grudges," Attwood wrote. He joined the Kennedy campaign as a speech writer.

Attwood said Stevenson campaigned intensely in 1960 largely because of his dislike for Nixon. He said one Stevenson speech in Sacramento "let Nixon have it with both barrels—something that Kennedy himself correctly refrained from doing...

"But when he left the hall and met the reporters outside, a voice in the dark asked, 'Governor, since when have you become Jack Kennedy's hatchet man?' And that was the last time he delivered that speech."

fleeing. Marines swept the area and found no bodies but captured 23 rocket launchers, five of them loaded. "Puff the Magic Dragon" gunships swept the enemy with gattling guns.

Marines said they found 11 of the big 140 millimeter rockets, on the site seven miles from the air base.

A U.S. spokesman in Saigon reported meanwhile that Viet Cong troops and civilians last week surrendered to the Saigon Government in record numbers for the third consecutive week.

He said 1,198 Viet Cong turned themselves in under the Chieu Hoi (open arms) program during the week ending March 11, breaking the record of 1,108 the previous week. This brought the year's total of defectors to 7,555, compared with 4,276 in the same period last year. The new group included 677 soldiers.

American troops reported killing at least 58 Communists in fights along the Cambodian border 225 miles northeast of Saigon the past two days. U.S. troops in the Central Highlands killed 21 Commmunists yesterday in two actions. American warplanes on 116 missions struck North Vietnam's southern panhandle supply routes and Red River Valley industrial area yesterday.

U.S. Air Force B-52 Stratofortresses today bombed twice Communist strongholds just west of the big Da Nang base.

D. E. Dudley Will Chair Art Board

Mrs. Henry Wachs and Mrs. Mathew Dillingham were appointed to nominate officers for 1967.

Drawing by lots, commissioners Wachs, Laura Devendorf and Sali Lieberman were named to three-year terms; Dudley and Mrs. Ann O'Hanlon to two-year terms, and Mrs Dillingham and a seventh commissioner, to be appointed, to one-year terms.

Commissioners denied the Outdoor Art Club's request to display work of a beginning art class in the library, because the work did not meet its criteria for library displays.

A special meeting was set for March 28 at 8 p.m. in city hall to consider a list of artists to be invited to display in public buildings.

arrested yesterday in the Criminal Court Building where the hearing is being held.

Police said he was seen pushing newsmen around and jostling bystanders and had telephoned officials to say he "intended to make national headlines in New Orleans."

Sheriff Louis A. Hyde Jr. said there had been other telephoned threats, and a small pistol was found hidden behind the wheel of a truck at a service station where Shaw and his attorney parked their cars Tuesday.

"Have you ever undergone psychiatric treatment?" Dymond then asked abruptly.

Russo replied he had for perhaps two years, "maybe a year and a half," from about mid-1959 to late 1960.

"The consultations...ended in late 60 or early '61," Russo said.

Russo said he had discussed personal and social problems with psychiatrists during 1967 but not on a professional basis.

Although Dymond never got around to making his point, he questioned Russo extensively about whether he got into trouble in high school for saying he did not believe in God and whether he ever testified falsely in a court case while at Tulane University.

Sheriff's officers today were seeking a youth who reportedly exposed himself to a College of Marin student in Kentfield Monday.

Deputies said the girl was walking along College Avenue near Stadium Way when the youth, seated in a late model station wagon, attracted her attention. He was nude from the waist down, she said. She described him as blond, tall, and about 20.

the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and the Central Intelligence Agency are of firm belief "that the bombing is causing serious disruption and added expense to the North Vietnamese infiltration efforts."

The President also took up the question of the bombing of civilians, saying, "We have never deliberately bombed cities nor attacked any target with the purpose of inflicting civilian casualties."

Reciting again the administration's posture toward a possible settlement, he asserted:

"We believe that the Geneva accords of 1954 and 1962 could serve as the central elements of a peaceful settlement. These accords provide, in essence, that both South and North Vietnam should be free from external interference, while at the same time they would be free and independent to determine their positions on the question of reunification."

Inmate On Death Row Gets New Penalty Trial

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Charles Luther Pike, who has been under death sentence longer than any other convict on San Quentin Prison's death row, was granted a new penalty trial yesterday by the California Supreme Court.

The tribunal, in a 5-2 decision, grounds that Pike's jury was told he could be paroled in seven years, if he were given a life sentence.

Pike, 33, was found guilty of slaying policeman Richard D. Kent during a Los Angeles robbery on Dec. 8, 1960. He has been on death row since Aug. 15, 1961.

Pike's first execution date, Oct. 24, 1962, was stayed by U. S. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas. His second date, Jan. 28, 1963, was stayed by Justice Frederick Hamley of the U. S. Court of Appeals.

Proposed Ramp For Elderly At Library Rejected

San Rafael city fathers last night turned thumbs down on a proposed $10,000 ramp for the elderly and infirm at the library on E Street, and asked for a less expensive version.

Library trustees met informally at city hall with all city councilmen except Dr. Charles W. Aby to discuss library plans and problems.

The councilmen agreed that such an approach was desirable, but suggested that Phillips and Finisy, San Rafael architects, find ways to cut the cost, perhaps by eliminating a vestibule-waiting room and overhead cover, shortening the approach, and simplifying construction.

At suggestion of Councilman Louis H. Baar, the trustees agreed to undertake long-range planning of the library's development. They accepted a suggestion of Councilman Fred E. Jensen that closer liaison with the council be developed.

Five-Year-Old Hurts Head In Wall Fall

A five-year-old Greenbrae girl suffered a head injury when she fell from a six-foot wall at 408 Via Hidalgo, Greenbrae, yesterday at 4:10 p.m., according to Larkspur police.

Karen Louise Kraft, daughter of Mrs. Charmaine Kraft of 360 Via Hidalgo, was treated for concussion at Marin General Hospital.

Teddy The Bear Is Given Bigger Space At Museum

Teddy the bear has lost a friend, but he's gained breathing room.

An extensive remodeling job at Boyd Natural Science Museum in San Rafael provided Teddy with a big new cage to match his heft. Teddy had outgrown the cage he moved into as a cub three years ago. A California brown bear, he now weighs several hundred pounds.

But Teddy had a mutual backscratching arrangement with his old neighbor, Sammy the gibbon, and that's gone by the board now. The gibbon's new neighbors are coyotes on one side and raccoons, on the other. Teddy is in isolated splendor in his big new cage.

Teddy came to the museum three years ago after being arrested as a vagrant in Redding. He was reared by a Redding family as a pet, but started roving when the family went on vacation and wound up in jail. The museum got him from the state Fish and Game Department. His Redding family still visits him each summer, museum director Clara A. Boyd said.

Surgeon's Wife Seeking Divorce

Dr. G. William Magladry, Marin chest surgeon, was sued for divorce in Marin Superior Court today on grounds of cruelty.

His wife, Marilyn A. Magladry asks custody of the five children, Robert S., 21, Wendy, 18, Betsy, 13, Nancy ,11, and George W., 5, and her share of community property.

The family home is at 7 Pigeon Hollow Road, San Rafael. The couple wed July 1, 1944, in Palo Alto, and separated Jan. 4.

The problems of LSD and marijuana at Novato High School will be the subject of discussion at a public meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the old gymnasium at Novato High School, sponsored by the school's parent-faculty club.

Mayor J. Wayne Womack will moderate a discussion by Detective Otto Haiungs of Novato police, Joseph Gargiulo and Harry Moore of the high school faculty, and one doctor.

Stolen Checks Found In Mail

The checks were stolen last Thursday from the Fairchild Semiconductor plant at 2300 Redwood Highway, San Rafael.

Police theorized the thief, unable to cash the checks because they had been made out to plant employees, discarded them.

Stolen Ketch Case Solved

Sausalito police today booked a San Francisco "hippie" into county jail on suspicion of stealing a $7,000 ketch from Clipper Yacht Harbor.

Norman T. Hettman, 24, was arrested today in his Hayes Street pad, reported chief Edward S. Kreins, following a tip that Hettman had sailed the 29-foot ketch to Gas House Cove on San Francisco's Marina.

The boat apparently was stolen Feb. 22, Kreins said, then repainted, registration number changed and the inboard engine exchanged for an outboard motor. Hettman even tried to reregister the boat, Kreins said.

Owner of the boat, the Zealous, is Wilbur Hebbinett of San Francisco. He discovered it was missing last Friday.

Women May Get Overtime Hours

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—A bill to extend the maximum work week for women employees from the present 40 hours to a top of 60 hours has been introduced by Assemblyman Rob Moretti, D-Van Nuys.

Time and-a-half pay would be required for any work over 40 hours, Moretti said.

"The present limitations on the maximum working hours for women are outmoded," Moretti said. "As women gain more and more equality in our society, it is only right and proper that they be given the ability to contract for work in excess of eight hours per day on the same basis as men."

Four Policemen To Get Diplomas

Four police officers from Marin will receive diplomas Saturday with the 40th graduating class of Diablo Valley College's Northern California Police Officers' School in Pleasant Hill.

Completing the five-week session of 200 hours of instruction will be Rodney J. Sheran of the Mill Valley Police Department; Thomas F. Johnson, Novato police; Roy G. Hendricks, San Rafael police, and Jack Heringer, Sausalito police.

Burned-Out Store Abatement Stalled

Abatement of the Moulton Mercantile store in Forrest Knolls, gutted by fire 13 months ago, was delayed a month by county supervisors yesterday. They said they did not have enough information on the condition of the building.

The vote to delay the abatement order was 4-1, with Supervisor Peter H. Behr dissenting strongly and reminding fellow supervisors that they had ordered abatement of the building last August and it only came up again because of delay in getting approval to burn the building from the Bay Area Air Pollution Control Board.

Real estate agent Grance Zanolini, speaking for owner Ramona Weaver, said she nearly had a buyer for the property, but the buyer backed out for fear of a long fight with the county planning department on rebuilding the store,, a non-conforming use which could not be re-established without a zone change.

Supervisor John F. McInnis cited Mrs. Zanolini's complaint as one of the "greatest problems and hazards to development in Marin County." Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen agreed, but Behr took exception, charging McInnis with trying "to continue a vendetta" against the planning and public works departments.

Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also:

MARIN CITY ROAD — Endorsed the idea of a second road into Marin City connecting with Highway 101 at Rodeo Avenue. The new road is under study by California Development Corp., building Ridgeland homes.

COMMITTEES — Accepted the resignation of Joseph W. Wright from the ad hoc committee on the county fair and auditorium, but delayed action on replacement. The board also delayed appointments to a committee to study police consolidation.

AMBULANCE COST — Approved appropriation of $3,000 from reserves to cover cost higher than budgeted for transportation of mentally ill.

BODY REMOVAL — Approved appropriation of $1,200 from reserve to cover the coroner's cost of removing bodies to mortuaries, also higher than budgeted.

CHILD CARE — Expanded the budget for the child center and pre-school program, putting it back at $123,016 as originally proposed. The budget was cut several weeks ago when it appeared federal war on poverty funds would not be available. These funds have since been approved, and the county program was expanded accordingly.

MILEAGE — Delayed action on the administrator's recommendation to increase pay from 10 to 12 cents a mile for employees using their own cars for county business.

STREET CLOSING — Asked for more study on the request of the San Geronimo Valley Association for closure of Castro Street in Forest Knolls, giving a single, two-way access to Sir Francis Drake Boulevard on Montezuma Street.

MEDICAL CENTER — Approved development plans for a 10-office Marinwood medical Center at Miller Creek Road and Las Gallinas Avenue.

DREDGING — Approved redredging proposed east of Strawberry Drive to reopen the channel between waterfront homes and tidelands purchased by the county, Strawberry Recreation District and Tiburon.

PUZZLED — Wanted more information of the proposed federal expenditure of $45,000 for a study of harbor development in the shelter of Point Reyes. Supervisors had little information on the proposal, mentioned only slightly in a letter from Rep. Donald R. Clausen, R-Crescent City.

DATA — Approved job description for a director of data processing and revised the salary range from $1,150-$1,500 a month, to $1,333-$1,500, changing only the lower limit.

OIL EXPLORATION — Made no protest on proposed oil exploration plane planned March 23 through Sept. 22 in state controlled waters off Point Reyes.

HEARINGS — Set hearing April 11 on the proposed formation of the Tamalpais community services district and hearing March 28 on a proposed new sign ordinance.

TRAVEL — Approved Supervisor McInnis's request to attend an April 2-4 conference on regional government in Washington, D.C.

Clausen Won't Submit Udall Redwoods Bill

I-J Special Report

WASHINGTON — Rep. Don Clausen, R-First District, Calif., will not introduce the Administration's Redwood National Park bill "because it is fraught with defects and doesn't solve the redwood park problem."

Clausen said the 43,434-acre park proposal sent to Congress last Saturday by Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall, contains "imperfections."

Clausen introduced the administration's redwood park proposal last year, but it failed to advance beyond senate hearings.

This year, he said he would propose his own Redwood National Park and Seashore bill. Clausen proposes a 53,000-acre park, 50 miles long and including 40 miles of seashore in Del Norte and Humboldt counties.

State To Keep Election Canvass

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — The semi-official statewide canvass of votes on election night will continue unchanged, Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan announced yesterday.

Last month, Jordan asked Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, for legislation to eliminate the semi-official canvass on each primary and general election. He said the work of his staff, which stays up all night tabulating statewide results, duplicates the work of news services.

Yesterday, however, the secretary of state said he had notified Senator McCarthy he would withdraw his request. He decided to retain the present system after a conference with members of his staff and the Capitol press corps.

Livesaving Course

A Red Cross Lifesaving course will be offered at Tamalpais High School Tuesday through March 25 from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Instructor will be George P. Gustafson, physical education teacher at Tam.

Nature Courses Strongly Urged

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Liberal arts colleges were challenged yesterday to provide courses in conservation of natural resources and educate man to understand "a nature he cannot escape."

Prof. Joseph C. Jankowski of the St. Joseph's College campus at Calumet in Indiana issued the challenge at the North American Wildlife and Natural Resources Conference.

Progress appears to be a kind of race in the exploitation of our natural resources, he said, with the result already a national tragedy.

"We have practically destroyed a heritage which took billions of years to develop," Jankowski said.

He blamed inadequate planning in past years rather than the population explosion.

Hot Time Over High Times But No Decision Reached

By FRANK FARRARA

A verbal sparring match over High Times, countywide student newspaper, went about 15 rounds before the San Rafael Board of Education last night to no decision.

The controversy over distribution of the newspaper on campus ranged to comments about censorship, newspaper production cost, and calling high school seniors "children."

After an hour of free-wheeling comments from students, parents and teachers before a standing-room audience of more than 100 persons, the board postponed action until April 11.

AT OFFICE

In the meantime the newspaper will be available at Terra Linda and San Rafael high schools unless the attorney general's office rules that distribution on campus is illegal.

Supt. John F. Plank reported that High Times "is not being distributed in the original manner, but is available at the principal's office."

The board received demands last month that distribution of the newspaper, written and edited by high school students and distributed by the Pacific Sun, be halted on campuses. Objectors charged it is "left-wing" and irresponsible.

Plank recommended that the district publish the newspaper jointly with other high school districts, so there would be control and responsibility. Tamalpais High School District is interested, "but I don't know about Novato or Marin Catholic," he said. He estimated cost to the district would be from $50 to $75 an issue, "but without ads it would be doubled."

ENOUGH TO DO

Board Member Lawrence I. Kramer Jr. said the question before the board was the propriety of distribution. He said "the school district has enough to do without becoming a gratuitous housemother to a new paper."

Bob King of Terra Linda High School, a member of the High Times staff, said students would be willing to work out a plan for financing and matters of responsibility.

Kramer moved that the matter be postponed until students and administrators work out a plan, and the April 11 date was set.

At one point James Rosso, a College of Marin student, objected to references to high school students as children. Senior boys will be going to war next year, and will be getting killed, he said. "They're no longer children."

Board Member Anita C. Strom replied, "Whether we call them children or not, under law we as parents still have the responsibility."

'COULD PROFIT'

Boris T. Pash of 72 Cottonwood Drive, San Rafael, said students need the newspaper, but "still could profit by advice from elders."

Michael Peevey of 7 Espalda Court, San Rafael, said it appeared that "under the guise of duty and responsibility" there was "a somewhat obvious attempt to control the content of the newspaper."

He suggested that perhaps the student editor could provide Mrs. Strom with space on the editorial staff.

This drew a rebuke from board president Carl J. Brown, who pointed out the board is legally responsible for what is distributed at the schools.

Mrs. Strom contended that educators censor criticism when there should be freedom of debate. "What you say is you want no criticism," she said.

An unusual aspect cropped up when board member Paul L. Jones played a portion of a tape recording of a broadcast over a Santa Cruz radio station, which originated in Inglewood, Los Angeles County.

The broadcaster referred to an article in High Times about the free speech movement at the University of California at Berkeley as "an attempt to get high school students to prepare for certain types of affiliations."

Jones said he played it so students could see "what someone else reads into it."

Speed Limit

The 35-mile per hour speed limit on Highway 101 in Novato has been extended 100 feet south of Diablo Avenue, and the limit northbound has been reduced from 50 to 45 miles per hour from 400 feet south of Lamont Avenue to De Long Road, the California Highway Patrol announced today.

Recreation Council Elects Officers

Dwight B. Bsihop has been elected president of Mill Valley recreation council.

Other officers for 1967 are Bob Robertson, vice president; Fay Rider, secretary; Clay Underhill treasurer, and Jacqueline Thompson, Frank Uyeda, Jerome C. Hauke, Richard Parino, Don Dimitratos and Jack Brabo, executive board members.

McCarthy Is Speaker

Senate Minority Leader John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, was featured speaker last night at the annual dinner of the California State Employees Association at Senator Hotel in Sacramento.

Teachers Pay Discussed By Ross Board

When working out salary scale policy, teachers should keep in mind increases for those at the top as well as staff in the middle of the scale, Ross School District trustee L. G. McLise suggested at a meeting of the board Monday night.

His advice came after the district's teacher salary committee presented an interim report on its salary talks, said Supt. Robert D. Gowan.

The committee will present salary proposals at the April 10 meeting of the board, which will also be a tentative budget hearing, Gowan said.

Hazel Nelson, chairman of the salary committee, said discussion had included health benefits and a proposal to reduce the schedule from 13 years to 12 years.

Gowan told the board a boys' physical education teacher and a mathematics teacher are needed for seventh and eighth grades.

The board extended the South American leave of Spanish teacher Dorotea Botermans from two to three weeks.

Forgery Plea Set

Robert Wayne Kitzmiller, 31, of 197 Bolinas Road, Fairfax, was arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on charge of forging a lease form from Hertz Rent-A-Car Corp. in San Rafael. He is to enter plea at 1:30 p.m. next Tuesday.

Plea Slated Today On Grand Theft

Robert Bustillos, 28, serving time in California Medical Facility for burglary, was to enter plea in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon to charges of burglary and grand theft.

Bustillos was arraigned yesterday before Judge Hadden W. Roth. He and another Vacaville prisoner, William Charles Bragg, are accused of grand theft and burglary from Jim and Ken's TV Service at 1110 Grant Avenue, Novato, and burglary of Westland Radio and TV at 1535 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

Ex-Husband Of Heiress Surrenders Their Children

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — San Francisco heiress Dolly Fritz MacMasters reportedly recovered her two young daughters in Mexico today from her divorced husband.

Donald MacMasters, 37, said in telephone conversation with The Examiner and Radio Station KSFO that he had surrendered the children to their mother after he had been "held prisoner by six thugs."

MacMasters, former antique dealer, had fled with the girls—Marguerite, 4, and Isabelle, 3—Feb. 19 after locking their Swiss nurse in the basement of a San Francisco apartment.

For almost a month he eluded pursuit , he said, hiding in a beach house in Merida, on Mexico's Yucatan Peninsula.

"The children nevr realized what was going on," the Examiner quoted him. "They think their papa took them for a nice Mexican vacation. We visited the ruins together."

MacMasters told KSFO he turned the children over to Mrs. MacMasters yesterday and she took them by chartered plane for Mexico City. He thinks they are on their way to San Francisco.

He had been traced in Mexico by his wife's attorney, Richard L. Herndon of San Francisco.

MacMasters accused the attorney of breaking in the door of his rented beach house.

MacMasters said, "I was kidnaped from the street by six thugs. I was held incommunicado. They locked me up in a filthy Mexican prison for the night."

MacMasters's said he would press no charges.

In San Francisco his attorney, George T. Davis, said, "I'm glad this nightmarish episode has come to an end and I hope the matter of custody will now be settled in the courtroom and not in the jungles."

Elks Lodge Donates $500 To College Fund

A check for $500 has been presented to the College of Marin Student Loan Foundation by San Rafael Elks Lodge 1108 in the lodge's continuing program to aid youth.

Exalted Ruler Frank Ench made the presentation on behalf of the lodge to Ted Wellman, president of the foundation. Other youth program activities by the Elks include a scholarship fund at local and national level.

Wearing New Ring

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — Princess Benedikte wore today an engagement ring given her by German Prince Richard zu Sayn-Wittgenstein. Only an official announcement was lacking.

Post Office Remodeling Is Likely During Summer

San Rafael's old post office at Third and D Streets will probably be remodeled next summer to house federal agencies now scattered around the county.

Robert Ireland, a spokesman for the General Services Administration in San Francisco, said preliminary designs for the revamping are under way and selection of an architect is expected within a few weeks.

GSA will request funds for the project in the 1968 fiscal year budget, and estimate the total cost — to be shared by GSA and the Post Office Department will be under $200,000. If the funds are granted, construction will start in the summer.

The post office will retain some of the Spanish-style building for the Mission branch post office and storage, while partitions will be erected to provide suites of offices for other federal agencies. Those under consideration for the move include recruiting offices, Federal Bureau of Investigation, Civil Service Commission, Selective Service and the Internal Revenue Service.

Contempt Hearing

Coeds To Spend Summer Abroad

Two juniors at San Domenico School in Sleepy Hollow will spend two months in Europe this summer under the Experiment in International Living program.

Elizabeth Tucker has been chosen to go to Italy, and Martha MacIlvaine to Holland.

For her first month in Italy, Elizabeth will live with an Italian family and the second month will be spent traveling throughout the country and neighboring nations with other American students also selected to visit Italy as part of the program.

After a week's orientation course in Holland, Martha will spend a month with a Dutch family and the remainder of the time touring with her group by bicycle.

Trial Continued, Attorney Is Ill

Jury trial for Melkin Melkonian, 32, scheduled in Marin Superior Court for yesterday, was continued by Judge Thomas F. Keating until March 27 because Melkonian's attorney, Molly H. Minudri of San Francisco, is ill.

Melkonian, of 424 West Blithedale Avenue, Mill Valley, is accused of possession of marijuana at his home on Jan. 16.

More Vacation Asked For School Employees

Mill Valley School District's salary study committee last night recommended that nonteaching employees get one additional day of paid vacation for each year of service after 10 years, up to a maximum of 20 days.

Effect of the recommendation to the board of trustees would be to increase maximum vacation from three weeks after 10 years to four weeks after 15 years. Employees had originally asked for four weeks after 10 years.

Neighbors' Protests Delay Novato Annex

The City of Novato apparently lost a proposed 43-acre annexation last night when owners of more than 50 per cent of the assessed valuation of the land objected to the annexation.

In order to keep the issue alive, the council voted 4 to 0, with Councilman Douglas M. Merrill absent, to continue the matter for one month.

The annexation was started when the Novato Unified School District asked to annex the 20 acres of the Wilson Avenue junior high school site. It included the school site and 23 acres adjoining, north of the city limits at Center Road.

William D. Stuart of 727 Wilson Avenue, Cherubino Paladini of 785 Wilson Avenue, Guildo Paldino of 719 Wilson Avenue, and Shirley Gregor of 5 Gregor Lane, all registered verbal as well as written protests.

Their main objection was that annexation would increase taxes.

City councilmen said it would improve police protection. To this, Stuart retorted that last Aug. 14, there was an explosion in the car at Gerald Ring's home at 720 Wilson Avenue and he phoned Novato police about 11:15 a.m. The deputy sheriff did not arrive until about 12:15 and said police had not notified his office until noon, said Stuart.

Councilman Harley McAskill refused to believe this.

Today Novato Police Chief Robert D. Grazia said Novato police received the call at 11:10 a.m. and notified the sheriff at 11:11 a.m., according to their radio log.)

Asst. Supt. Eugene de Brecht argued for getting the school property into the city and was told that it may be annexed separately.

The Novato City Council also—

PARK — Awarded a $3,958 contract to Ghilotti Brothers of San Rafael, lowest of six bidders, to do concrete work at the Arroyo Avichi Park.

STREETS — Adopted the streets and highways elements in the Novato master plan.

LITTER — Approved purchase of two trash receptacles at $180 to be installed on Rowland Boulevard at South Novato Boulevard and Cambridge Street, and awarded a contract to Novato Disposal Service to empty these and receptacles on Grant Avenue for $22 per month.

TREES — Received a report from Lawrence A. Coleman, director of public works, that the State Division of Highways had planted 480 trees and shrubs on the Highway 37-101 interchange and had plans to plant 3,000 trees and shrubs on Highway 101 between Miller Creek Road and the interchange.

CONDEMNATION — Authorized condemnation of a small triangle of land in the Scotsdale assessment district which was accidentally omitted in the original engineering of the district.

SPECIFICATIONS — Approved a "standard specifications and drawings" book for the City of Novato, to be sold for $5 per copy to bidders on city jobs.

COMMITTEE — Withdrew an ordinance introduced two weeks ago to form a plan review committee with membership from throughout Marin County, and introduced it in new form restricting membership to Novato residents.

COURSE — Authorized sending a member of the police force to a personnel management course at Northwestern University in Evanston, Ill., at cost of $366.

SENIOR CITIZENS — Approved an application to Marin County to participate in a senior citizens program up to $1,250.

SHOWCASE — Decided to ask the woodworking class at Novato High School to make a showcase for Indian artifacts for the city.

HOLIDAYS — Introduced an ordinance changing city holidays, substituting Dec. 24 for Admission Day.

LOWER BUDGET INDEED A RARE BIRD IN 1967

Marin County Recorder Noel T. Giacomini today proposed a budget for his department for next fiscal year with lower costs and increased revenues, a rare exception among budgets under review by county administrator Alan Bruce.

Giacomini proposed a total budget of $124,351, just slightly under this year's total of $124,986. Revenues from filing and recording fees will be up from $81,000 in the current year to $85,000, he predicted.

Included in his proposal is $4,760 for a new cash record accounting machine, but reductions in other areas keep the total expenses down. Bruce gave tentative approval to the budget today.

Court Upholds Anti-Loitering Law Validity

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—California's anti-loitering law was ruled constitutional yesterday by a three-judge panel in San Francisco Superior Court.

The decision, in a case involving Dean Plagowski, 32, conflicted with one made earlier by a three-judge panel in Los Angeles, which found the law violated the U. S. Constitution.

The differing decisions will be taken to the California District Court of Appeal for clarification.

Judges C. Harold Caulfield, Alvin E. Weinberger and Walter Carpenetti said the law conformed with the Constitution and with recent U. S. Supreme Court decisions.

The statute says a person is guilty of disorderly conduct if he "loiters or wanders about from place to place without apparent reason or business and who refused to identify himself and account for his presence when requested by a peace officer to do so, if the surrounding circumstances are such as to indicate to a reasonable man that the public safety demands such identification."

Plagowski was arrested last July 7 in the Haight - Ashbury District. He pleaded no contest, but said on appeal that he identified himself to police but had no wallet with confirming documentation. Police said he refused to identify himself.

Cash Squeeze Hits Lagunitas Raise Requests

Lagunitas School District trustees last night found themselves caught in a squeeze between teachers' request for a minimum 5 per cent raise next year and a "bleak financial situation."

Supt. Marshall J. McCuniff said the teachers' request poses "quite a problem" and the board plans to "take a close look at the enrollment and may reduce the staff by a teacher or two."

The financial bind, he said, is a result of the expiration June 30 of the special 20-cent tax which has raised $12,000 a year to finance portable classes. Though the district has just passed a $250,000 bond issue and expects a $290,000 state loan to construct permanent classrooms, the portables now will have to be financed out of the general fund until construction is complete.

McCuniff, who has estimated the raise would add $8,000 to $9,000 to the nearly $176,000 salary budget, offered little hope for the raise "if the situation is as bleak as it appears at this time."

The trustees adopted the staff's proposed merit pay step, which will provide salary increases ranging from $300 to $1,700 a year for teachers judged worthy by a committee composed of the school principal, vice principal, a trustee and a teacher with "merit status."

The trustees also authorized initiation of condemnation of 10 acres of land adjoining the school and owned by Lagunitas Development Co. and needed for the new classrooms.

Bomb Threat Proves False

Occupants of the carmel Hotel, 830 B Street, San Rafael, were evacuated Friday after police received a telephone call that there was a bomb in the hotel.

The building was searched, but no bomb was found, police reported. The call was received at 6:26 a.m., police said.

Rejects Override

WATSONVILLE (AP)—Voters of the Pajaro Valley United School District yesterday rejected a $3,466,000 bond issue and an override tax.

Hub Councilmen Veto Hiring, Cite Economy

A routine move to fill a vacancy on a San Anselmo city street crew developed into a short debate on city efficiency and economy last night.

The economists won, 3-2, as the San Anselmo City Council voted against hiring a maintenance man. The hiring was to be bottom link in a chain reaction of promotions after street foreman Paul Pyles left the city payroll.

Councilman Woodrow N. Capurro balked at the replacement, saying it wasn't needed. The new foreman, Vern Ingraham, will be a "working foreman" instead of a "ride-around foreman," Capurro said.

Capurro was supported by Councilmen Arthur W. Smith and Robert N. Scott to defeat the hiring motion, despite a warning by Councilman Duane C. Ragan that "you can economize the city out of existence."

"It's time we did something in city government" for economy, Capurro said. "Everything is going up, up, up. I may be on the wrong track, but I'm going to find out."

The council approved promotion of maintenance man Wesley Madsen to equipment operator.

Seven men were named to the city's new design review board, which will rule on design of most new construction and major remodeling. Appointed were James McDonald and Harold Watkins, architects; A. C. Signorelli and Harlan Floyd, building contractors; James Farnkoph, an engineer; Lawrence G. Antolini, an attorney, and Joseph Crest, retired.

San Anselmo City Council Also:

TREE TRIMMING — Approved a contract with R. N. Bettini to remove a tree at 51 Tamalpais Avenue and trim overhanging limbs of trees at 57, 62 and 69 Tamalpais Avenue, at cost of $370. Public Works Director Charles R. Leitzell said trimming and removing down town trees causing street and sidewalk damage would cost $1,230 to $1,420, according to estimates by three firms. The council will consider the larger project at budget sessions.

PARKING LIMIT — Ordered a 30-minute parking limit on four parking spaces in the 700 block of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, in response to complaints by businessmen about all-day parking. Councilman Capurro asked for future consideration of a two-hour parking limit throughout downtown, as a convenience for shoppers.

PAINTING BIDS — Awarded a contract to Rufeno C. Lugo Painting Co., Mill Valley, for $1,169 to paint Firehouse 2. Other bidders were Continental Painting and Decorating Co., San Rafael, $1,425, and Kunst Painting Contractor, San Rafael, $1,527.

SPEEDING — Took no action on a petition by property owners on Fern Lane to restrict speed of cars there. The owners asked for asphalt ridges on the street to slow down high school students, driving from school. Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani opposed the proposal, and Public Works Director Charles Leitzell said the city might be liable for any car damage caused by the ridges.

LIBRARY DAMAGE — Hired Shapiro and Okino, structural engineers of San Francisco, to investigate extent of structural damage to the library behind cracks at the Tunstead Avenue entrance. Maximum cost of the investigation is $100.

SIDEWALKS — Approved a letter to Greenfield Avenue residents asking them to install sidewalks. More than half the street already has sidewalks.

TOWN MEETING — Declared April 29 "Town Meeting Day" and authorized the Congress for Community Progress to hang three street banners publicizing the event. The town meeting will be held at 1 p.m. at Sir Francis Drake High School.

SWEEPER — Approved payment of $12,976 for a new street sweeping machine.

DAMAGE CLAIM — Denied a $40,000 damage claim by Bertha K. Gallo, suing the city for injuries suffered in a fall on Jordan Avenue. Mrs. Gallo's attorneys claim the city allowed a slippery patch to remain on the street.

PARKING RESTRICTION — Postponed action on restricting parking on Camino de Herrera to allow a resident to speak on the matter at the next council meeting.

FLOOD CONTROL — Authorized the public works director to advise A. R. Wessell of 54 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard on steps for temporary erosion control of the creek bordering his property. Wessell said another year's rainfall will threaten his house.

A Special Cake For The Boys

The cake for the birthday party each month is the contribution of Mrs. Kenneth Lamott of Tiburon. The name of each boy celebrating a birthday that month is found on the cake.

Once a month, there is a big birthday party at the Boys' Club of Southern Marin in Marin City. All the boys who have birthdays during the month are guests of honor.

SUCH A big party calls for a big cake. This is the regular contribution of Mrs. Kenneth Lamott of Tiburon, who bakes, frosts, decorates and delivers the cake to the club in time for the party.

The boys whose birthdays are being celebrated find their names on the cake, printed on small, gay pennants made by Mrs. Lamott's daughter Anne.

"THE BOYS love parties," says Manford Chandler, program director of the club, "and the cakes are greatly appreciated."

Here are the recipes for two of Mrs. Lamott's special cakes and three frostings. For the Boys' Club parties she makes two sheet cakes and frosts them together.

CHOCOLATE CHIFFON CAKE

Preheat oven to 350. Grease and flour 13 x 9 oblong pan (or two 8 or 9 x 1½ inch layer pans).

Step 1: Sift together into large mixing bowl
1¾ cups sifted cake flour
1 cup sugar
¾ teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt

Step 2: Add to dry ingredients
⅓ cup cooking oil
½ cup buttermilk

Beat for one minute, then add and beat one more minute another ½ cup buttermilk
2 egg yolks
2 squares unsweetened chocolate (melted)

Step 3: Beat until very stiff
2 egg whites
½ cup sugar

Step 4: Fold egg white mixture into egg yolk mixture. Pour into pan and bake — oblong pan 40-45 minutes, 8 inch layers 30-35 minutes, 9 inch layers 25-30 minutes. Invert to cool.

Frost with either of the following two frostings.

CHOCOLATE FROSTING

In small bowl of electric beater mix at high speed:
2 cups confectioners sugar
2 squares unsweetened chocolate melted with ¼ cup milk
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon vanilla
Pinch of salt

COCOA FLUFF TOPPING

Mix in chilled bowl until thick enough to spread:
2 cups chilled whipping cream
1 cup sifted confectioners sugar
½ cup cocoa

YELLOW CHIFFON CAKE

This is particularly good when made in a tube pan and frosted with home-made Coffee Crisp Topping.

2¼ cups sifted cake flour
1 cup sugar
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
⅓ cup cooking oil
1 cup milk
1½ teaspoons vanilla
2 eggs, separated

Heat oven to 350. Grease and flour one 10" tube pan, 13 x 9 inch oblong pan, or two 8 or 9" layer cake pans.

Sift into mixing bowl:
flour, baking power, salt
1 cup sugar

Add oil, ½ cup milk, and vanilla. Beat one more minute.

Add rest of milk and two egg yolks. Beat one more minute.

Beat until very stiff.
2 egg whites
½ cup sugar

Fold into yolk mixture. Bake in tube pan for 55 minutes, oblong pan 40-45 minutes, 8" layer pan, 30-35 minutes, 9" layer 25-30 minutes. Invert to cool.

COFFEE CRISP TOPPING

Measure into saucepan at least five inches deep
1½ cups sugar
¼ cup white corn syrup
¼ cup coffee beverage

Stir ingredients and bring to boil. Cook to hard crack stage—310 degrees, or when small amount dropped into cold water will break with brittle snap. Remove from heat and immediately add:

3 teaspoons soda - free from all lumps (press soda through fine sieve, measure lightly).

Stir vigorously just until mixture thickens and pulls away from sides of pan. (Mixture foams rapidly when soda is added. Do not destroy foam by excessive beating). Immediately pour foamy mass into ungreased shallow metal pan (about 9 x 9 x 1½"). Do not spread or stir. Let stand without moving until cool. When ready to garnish cake, knock topping out of pan and crush between sheets of waxed paper with rolling pin to form coarse crumbs. This topping is easy to make, provided one works fast when the soda is added.

To frost cake place in chilled bowl:
2 cups whipping cream
2 tablespoons sugar
2 teaspoons vanilla

Whip cream until it holds its shape. Spread about half of whipped cream between layers or around sides. Use the other half on the top. Cover cake generously and thoroughly with crushed Coffee Crisp Topping.

A Hearty Meal Of Truly Gaelic Fare

There is a saying that each year on the 17th of March everyone who is not Irish wishes he were. Those of us who aren't love to share with our Irish friends the festivities associated with their national holiday, and the wearing of the green on St. Patrick's Day has become something of a tradition in this country, cherished by millions of Americans.

For those who will spend long cold hours reviewing the local St. Patrick's Day parade, no dinner could be more appropriate than a hearty meal of truly Gaelic fare. In her new book, Recipes From Ireland, published by Taplinger, Frances Mayville Budin gives every homemaker an opportunity to celebrate this holiday right in her own kitchen. Here are authentic Irish recipes, ones which would surely win the admiration of any cook from County Kerry:

CRUBEEN PEA SOUP

1 lb. dried peas, green or yellow
2½ qts. water
1 or 2 crubeens (trotters' or pigs' feet)
2 tbsp. lentils
1 stalk celery, sliced, or 1 onion, chopped
1 lb. sausage, sliced (optional)

Place peas, lentils, and water in kettle; cover and let stand overnight. In a separate pan soak crubeens in cold water for 1 hour; discard water. Combine peas, lentils, water, celery and crubeens; cover and bring slowly to a boil; reduce heat and simmer for 2 hours, stirring occasionally, or until crubeens are cooked (meat will fall away from bones). Add sausage during the last half hour of cooking. At the end of cooking, remove sausage and crubeens. Press the soup through a coarse sieve or blend a few seconds in a blender; return to the kettle with sausage. Remove any meat from crubeens and return it to the kettle. Season to taste. Serve hot. Makes 6-8 servings.

BOILED BACON AND CABBAGE

Cabbage

Wash the bacon and if very salty, steep in cold water for a few hours. Place in a saucepan and cover with cold water. Bring slowly to a boil and simmer, allowing 25 minutes to each pound and 25 minutes extra at the end of cooking. When cooked, remove the bacon and add shredded cabbage to remaining liquid. Cover and boil rapidly 10-15 minutes or until tender. Drain, sprinkle with salt and pepper. Chop very finely. Reheat with a little butter. Remove the rind from the bacon. Sprinkle bacon with bread crumbs and place under the broiler for a few minutes to brown. Slice the bacon and serve hot with the freshly cooked cabbage. Makes 4 servings.

KERRY APPLE CAKES

1 package frozen patty shells
2 pounds fillet of sole
2 cups white vinegar
2 teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons pickling spice
1 cinnamon stick
1 bay leaf
Dash cayenne
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup evaporated milk, undiluted
½ teaspoon seasoned salt
1 package 10 oz. frozen chopped spinach, thawed and undrained
1 egg yolk
2 tablespoons milk

Prepare patty shells according to package directions. Preheat oven to 375° F. Wipe fish well with damp paper towels.

Meanwhile, melt butter in saucepan; remove from heat. Stir in flour to make a smooth mixture. Gradually stir in evaporated milk. Bring to boiling, stirring. Reduce heat; simmer 2 minutes, or until quite thick. Add spinach and liquid; cook 5 minutes longer. Beat egg yolk slightly with fork; beat in milk. Stir a small amount of hot sauce into yolk mixture, combining well. Pour back into sauce. Cook, stirring over low heat, until thickened. Add fish and ¼ cup of reserved cooking liquid from fish. Spoon into warm patty shells. Makes 6 servings.

A Special Cake For The Boys

HUFFING AND PUFFING to blow out the candles on their birthday cake are five young gentlemen from the Boys' Club of Southern Marin in Marin City. From left are Kenneth Johnson, Stevie Lee, David Bracher, Carl Harris and Kenneth Woods. The cake for the birthday party each month is the contribution of Mrs. Kenneth Lamott of Tiburon. The name of each boy celebrating a birthday that month is found on the cake. (Independent-Journal photo)

Once a month, there is a big birthday party at the Boys' Club of Southern Marin in Marin City. All the boys who have birthdays during the month are guests of honor.

SUCH A big party calls for a big cake. This is the regular contribution of Mrs. Kenneth Lamott of Tiburon, who bakes, frosts, decorates and delivers the cake to the club in time for the party.

The boys whose birthdays are being celebrated find their names on the cake, printed on small, gay pennants made by Mrs. Lamott's daughter Anne.

"THE BOYS love parties," says Manford Chandler, program director of the club, "and the cakes are greatly appreciated."

Here are the recipes for two of Mrs. Lamott's special cakes and three frostings. For the Boys' Club parties she makes two sheet cakes and frosts them together.

CHOCOLATE CHIFFON CAKE

Preheat oven to 350. Grease and flour 13 x 9 oblong pan (or two 8 or 9 x 1½ inch layer pans).

Step 1: Sift together into large mixing bowl
- 1¾ cups sifted cake flour
- 1 cup sugar
- ¾ teaspoon soda
- 1 teaspoon salt

Step 2: Add to dry ingredients
- ⅓ cup cooking oil
- ½ cup buttermilk

Beat for one minute, then add and beat one more minute another ½ cup buttermilk
- 2 egg yolks
- 2 squares unsweetened chocolate (melted)

Step 3: Beat until very stiff
- 2 egg whites
- ½ cup sugar

Step 4: Fold egg white mixture into egg yolk mixture. Pour into pan and bake — oblong pan 40-45 minutes, 8 inch layers 30-35 minutes, 9 inch layers 25-30 minutes. Invert to cool.

Frost with either of the following two frostings.

CHOCOLATE FROSTING

In small bowl of electric beater mix at high speed:
- 2 cups confectioners sugar
- 2 squares unsweetened chocolate melted with ¼ cup milk
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- Pinch of salt

COCOA FLUFF TOPPING

Mix in chilled bowl until thick enough to spread:
- 2 cups chilled whipping cream
- 1 cup sifted confectioners sugar
- ½ cup cocoa
- Dash salt

YELLOW CHIFFON CAKE

This is particularly good when made in a tube pan and frosted with home-made Coffee Crisp Topping.
- 2¼ cups sifted cake flour
- 1 cup sugar
- 3 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ⅓ cup cooking oil
- 1 cup milk
- 1½ teaspoons vanilla
- 2 eggs, separated

Heat oven to 350. Grease and flour one 10" tube pan, 13 x 9 inch oblong pan, or two 8 or 9" layer cake pans.

Sift into mixing bowl:
- flour, baking power, salt
- 1 cup sugar

Add oil, ½ cup milk, and vanilla. Beat one more minute.

Add rest of milk and two egg yolks. Beat one more minute.

Beat until very stiff.
- 2 egg whites
- ½ cup sugar

Fold into yolk mixture. Bake in tube pan for 55 minutes, oblong pan 40-45 minutes, 8" layer pan, 30-35 minutes, 9" layer 25-30 minutes. Invert to cool.

COFFEE CRISP TOPPING

Measure into saucepan at least five inches deep
- 1½ cups sugar
- ¼ cup white corn syrup
- ¼ cup coffee beverage

Stir ingredients and bring to boil. Cook to hard crack stage—310 degrees, or when small amount dropped into cold water will break with brittle snap. Remove from heat and immediately add:
- 3 teaspoons soda - free from all lumps (press soda through fine sieve, measure lightly).

Stir vigorously just until mixture thickens and pulls away from sides of pan. (Mixture foams rapidly when soda is added. Do not destroy foam by excessive beating). Immediately pour foamy mass into ungreased shallow metal pan (about 9 x 9 x 1½"). Do not spread or stir. Let stand without moving until cool. When ready to garnish cake, knock topping out of pan and crush between sheets of waxed paper with rolling pin to form coarse crumbs. This topping is easy to make, provided one works fast when the soda is added.

To frost cake place in chilled bowl:
- 2 cups whipping cream
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 2 teaspoons vanilla

Whip cream until it holds its shape. Spread about half of whipped cream between layers or around sides. Use the other half on the top. Cover cake generously and thoroughly with crushed Coffee Crisp Topping.

MANDARIN ROAST LAMB

Boneless leg of lamb, rolled and netted
- Salt and pepper
- ¾ cup pineapple juice
- ¼ cup each honey and lemon juice
- ⅛ teaspoon each ginger and garlic powder

Sprinkle lamb with salt and pepper; place on rack in shallow roasting pan. Roast at 325 degrees until meat thermometer registers 170 to 175 degrees for medium doneness. Allow finished roast to stand out of oven for 10 minutes; cut netting lengthwise and carefully peel down to remove in one piece.

A Hearty Meal Of Truly Gaelic Fare

There is a saying that each year on the 17th of March everyone who is not Irish wishes he were. Those of us who aren't love to share with our Irish friends the festivities associated with their national holiday, and the wearing of the green on St. Patrick's Day has become something of a tradition in this country, cherished by millions of Americans.

For those who will spend long cold hours reviewing the local St. Patrick's Day parade, no dinner could be more appropriate than a hearty meal of truly Gaelic fare. In her new book, Recipes From Ireland, published by Taplinger, Frances Mayville Budin gives every homemaker an opportunity to celebrate this holiday right in her own kitchen. Here are authentic Irish recipes, ones which would surely win the admiration of any cook from County Kerry:

CRUBEEN PEA SOUP
- 1 lb. dried peas, green or yellow
- 2½ qts. water
- 1 or 2 crubeens (trotters' or pigs' feet)
- 2 tbsp. lentils
- 1 stalk celery, sliced, or 1 onion, chopped
- 1 lb. sausage, sliced (optional)

Place peas, lentils, and water in kettle; cover and let stand overnight. In a separate pan soak crubeens in cold water for 1 hour; discard water. Combine peas, lentils, water, celery and crubeens; cover and bring slowly to a boil; reduce heat and simmer for 2 hours, stirring occasionally, or until crubeens are cooked (meat will fall away from bones). Add sausage during the last half hour of cooking. At the end of cooking, remove sausage and crubeens. Press the soup through a coarse sieve or blend a few seconds in a blender; return to the kettle with sausage. Remove any meat from crubeens and return it to the kettle. Season to taste. Serve hot. Makes 6-8 servings.

BOILED BACON AND CABBAGE
- 1½ lbs. boiling bacon or ham
- Cabbage

Wash the bacon and if very salty, steep in cold water for a few hours. Place in a saucepan and cover with cold water. Bring slowly to a boil and simmer, allowing 25 minutes to each pound and 25 minutes extra at the end of cooking. When cooked, remove the bacon and add shredded cabbage to remaining liquid. Cover and boil rapidly 10-15 minutes or until tender. Drain, sprinkle with salt and pepper. Chop very finely. Reheat with a little butter. Remove the rind from the bacon. Sprinkle bacon with bread crumbs and place under the broiler for a few minutes to brown. Slice the bacon and serve hot with the freshly cooked cabbage. Makes 4 servings.

KERRY APPLE CAKES
- 1¾ cups sifted flour
- ½ cup sugar
- 1 tsp. baking powder
- ¼ tsp. cloves
- ¼ tsp. cinnamon
- ½ cup butter or margarine
- 3 medium apples, peeled and thinly sliced
- 1 egg, slightly beaten
- ⅓ cup milk
- ¼ tsp. salt

Sift together the flour, sugar, baking powder, salt and spices. Add the butter and blend in with a pastry blender. Stir in the apple slices. Add the egg and milk; blend well (the batter will be rather stiff). Spread in a greased 9" square pan. Sprinkle liberally with brown sugar. Bake at 400° F for 30 minutes. Serve warm. If desired, serve with slightly whipped cream. Makes 6-8 servings.

PETITE FRANCOISE DUBRULLE paints at the aluminum easel which she finds sturdy for large works. The French artist here is working on the painting "Manhattan Towers" in her Tiburon studio.

Variety Marks Background Of Artist

By BETTY FROST

The maid of Orleans is living and painting in Tiburon. Diminutive Francoise Dubrulle, a native of the town in France which is the birthplace of Joan of Arc, is also a young woman of courage and purpose.

Mlle. Dubrulle came to the Bay Area to fulfill commissions for paintings which will hang in Scott Hall and Pershing Hall in the Presidio of San Francisco. The large representational paintings are of Northern California scenes. Actually, though, Francoise considers herself to be of the impressionist school, which is just the beginning of the versatility expressed by her training and career in Europe and this country.

Enthusiastic about Marin after traveling from Oregon to the Monterey Peninsula to find a place to establish a home and studio, she finds that her new community is enthusiastic about her, too. She has been asked to put on an invitational show this weekend at the Recreation Room of Tiburon Hill Estates, Tiburon, to include paintings and drawings. She also has work on display at the Tiburon Gallery.

SHE RECEIVED B.A. and M.A. degrees from the Ecole des Beaux Arts in Paris. She won a scholarship for a year's study at the Villa Medicis in Rome, and continued her study of painting under European artists. She also had instruction in sculpture, engraving, tapestry, and did her thesis on religious art. Her training included enamel work at Limoges, stained glass in Paris, cabinet work and antiques in France, interior designing and fabrics in Paris and Lyon and architecture at Le Corbusier. Her work is in private and museum collections in both North and South America as well as Europe.

HER PARENTS remain in Orleans, where her father, M. Robert Dubrulle is a banker. Although she refused to dwell upon hardships of a childhood in war-torn France, she told one incident which illustrates M. Dubrulle's resourcefulness. Just before they fled their home, 80 miles out of Paris, her father buried the bank's gold in the backyard. When they returned after the war the gold was still there.

She became acquainted with Americans when she worked as translator at Orleans for American Communication Zone headquarters. Translating for the engineers was hard, she said, although her background in architecture was some help.

Ten years ago Mlle. Dubrulle went to Washington, D.C. and found work translating and doing medical sketches. Later she went to New Orleans as chief designer for J. D. Leblanc, a firm with a large clientele in industrial and residential design.

HER VIEWS ON INTERIOR decoration are liberal. She feels that the interior decorator should not dictate to the homeowner, and that personal preferences should be considered. Her own spacious apartment and deck looking towards Mt. Tamalpais exemplify her theories. She has several camel saddles used for footstools, a German telephone, dining room chairs were originally from her grandmother's patio, a table from Spain and some of her own paintings.

During her stay in New Orleans she taught at Tulane University and in her own studio. There she became acquainted with a fine portrait artist who wanted Mlle. Dubrulle to do landscape paintings for his gallery. For two years she worked 8 to 5 p.m. at her designing job, and 6 p.m. to 2 a.m. in the gallery. Under such a herculean schedule, her health suffered, and she returned to France and spent a year with her family, recuperating.

SHE RETURNED to settle in New York, where she became chief designer for Dan Cooper, a professional architect and pioneer in interior design. Later she worked with an architecture firm which designed for department stores around the world.

"New York is a hard city," she says, and "I am happy to be in Marin where the weather and surroundings are so beautiful." In her Tiburon studio she is concentrating on the fine arts, but she says, "You have to learn, to keep up with new technicalities."

She is intrigued with a new kind of canvas, which, when painted with oil, gives the appearance of a pastel, and, a true craftsman, she feels that the painting is not complete until it is appropriately framed. With her small strong hands she demonstrated the framing and stretching techniques that complete the work of art.

Physician Advocates New Abortion Laws

"As far as it goes the bill before the California legislature is a good bill. It would permit abortions to preserve the life or the physical or mental health of the mother; to prevent possible grave physical or mental impairment of the unborn child, or in cases of rape or incest," Dr. John S. Miller told members of the United Presbyterian Women at Westminster Presbyterian Church, Tiburon, yesterday.

"I am becoming more and more an advocate of a situation which would allow any woman to have an abortion on request," the obstetrician-gynecologist said.

"The legislation pending in Sacramento will not solve all the problems, and I ask myself 'does the state have the right to make this intimate decision for a couple?' "

BETWEEN 250,000 and 1,000,000 women in the United States have abortions each year, the doctor stated. "Most are white, well-educated upper middle class women. The have to be because it is expensive. In order to obtain the operation under hospital conditions they must go to Japan, Poland or other Eastern European countries. On the East Coast many go to Puerto Rico. Sweden has tightened its laws, so it is now difficult for foreigners to obtain operations there, and the Mexican border town of Tijuana is no longer reliable."

There is an essential immorality in our society, the doctor declared. "The woman who is the victim of rape must bear the child, while the rapist escapes. The youngster who is pregnant has two lousy choices — to raise an unwanted baby or to give it up for adoption, while the father is unburdened. The prostitute is jailed, but the pimp goes free. This is still a society of men for men. Margaret Sanger, founder of the Planned Parenthood movement, was interested in the dignity of women. Largely through her organization's efforts contraceptions gained widespread acceptance for 99 per cent of the population. Liberalizing abortion laws would take care of the last one per cent, he said.

"PATRICIA MAGINNIS, founder of the Society for Humane Abortion, who has conducted abortion classes in Marin, may be the Margaret Sanger of the latter part of the 20th Century," Dr. Miller said.

The lecturer, author of a text on childbirth, an elder in the Westminster Presbyterian Church and member of its Commission on Church in Society, spoke of the theological implications. In 1872 the Roman Catholic Church declared that the soul entered the body at the moment of conception, and that any tampering with the fetus was murder. Currently 45 of the 50 states have a law based on this interpretation.

The bill which Assemblyman Anthony Beilenson has proposed in the state legislature would enable doctors to perform this operation under hospital condition, Dr. Miller explained. The principal dangers to the unborn are physical or mental deformity due to German measles during pregnancy, possible radiation damage, or untested drugs. Should the bill now pending be passed, legal abortion would be permissable in such cases. Nine doctors are now under indictment for performing illegal operations where German measles was involved. Dr. Thomas Hart of Ross is Marin chairman of the California Committee for Legal Abortion, seeking to change the law.—(BLF)

THE PENNEY STORY

"One eye on quality; one on price"

By ROBERTA NASH

More often than not, in a store's newspaper advertising, the emphasis is on the price of merchandise, for this is the news that readers want to know.

But the Penney people want to be sure you understand that this emphasis on price in advertising does not represent the thinking within the Penney organization. The thing that makes Penney wheels go round is value, or what you get for that low price.

"We have to keep one eye on quality and the other on price," one of our buyers said to me. "Every sale we make today is designed to bring the customer back tomorrow."

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Former Cancer Patient Pleads For Others To Help Themselves

DEAR HELEN:

I read "Fighter's" letter relative to cancer and want to say, "More power to you!" Let me tell you my experience.

I was admitted to the practice of law in New York State in 1926, and was quite successful. In December, 1961, I flew to Philadelphia with friends to attend the Army-Navy game. I drank, smoked and cheered too much — (I was a three-pack-a-day smoker). Next day I was hoarse. When the hoarseness continued for two weeks. I consulted my doctor, and, after many weeks of testing, he told me I had an active cancer of the larynx.

To cure it, my vocal cords must be removed, and with them would go my voice. Forever afterwards I would breathe through a hole (stoma) in my neck. And I was a LAWYER!

I was operated on the day after my 58th birthday and awakened completely mute. I could not speak, laugh, cry, snore or make any sound whatsoever.

After convalescence, I learned of the Speech Rehabilitation Center in New York City, where esophageal speech is taught. There are such centers in many cities; they can be located through the American Cancer Society.

I attended the center five or six hours a day for three months and by that time I could make sounds and was on my way to speech again. By the end of the year, I could speak, not clearly or well, but I could make myself understood.

I didn't miss a day at the office! Today, five years later, I speak fluently, although I sound like a fog horn with a cold. So what? The point is, most people think there is nothing wrong with me except laryngitis.

Again, I agree with Fighter. Only the very stupid refuse to acknowledge cancer. I am alive today only because I did.

Any laryngectomee can learn to speak. It isn't easy but it's possible. Best of all, if the victim has no money, the American Cancer Society will arrange FREE lessons.

Helen, I am no do-gooder. I detest the type. When I was speechless and in the depth of despair, however, I did resolve to seek every way I could to help cancer patients. Hence this letter.

Won't you please ask all your readers to write their local chapter of the Cancer Society and request that a copy of "Cancer's Seven Danger Signals" be mailed to them? It tells how to recognize the symptoms and cancer can be cured. It's free, no one will ever call on you and you won't be asked for contribution. —G.G.

DEAR G.G.:

Thank you for your inspiring letter. It may save a life! —H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

Teen Center Wins Nod —Strings Attached

A commercially operated "teen center" for San Rafael got the go-ahead from the city's planning commission last night, despite a petition of protest by neighboring businessmen.

The four commissioners present voted unanimously to grant Richard Conn a permit for a teen dance and entertainment center at 502 Irwin Street.

In doing so, however, they tied the operation with several pieces of string suggested by the planning staff and police department. When Conn agreed to all the conditions, Commissioner Thomas R. O'Toole declared:

"Anyone who's willing to take the risk under these conditions either has all the faith in the world in humanity, or he's out of his mind."

The conditions:

1. The permit is for only six months, renewable if there is no trouble.

2. Hours for the operation will be from 3:30 to 6:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 8 p.m. to midnight Friday and Saturday — when "live" bands will play for dances, and 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday.

3. No liquor or beer will be permitted.

4. There will be no "in and out" passes during the dances.

5. Conn or his wife is to be present at all times. At the dances, there will be one uniformed police officer — paid by the operator — for each 100 people.

6. The center will be limited to those from 14 to 20 years old.

Conn himself added a couple more conditions: school student body cards must be shown to gain admittance, and the bands used will be local Marin County bands.

The petition in opposition was presented by George Steinert, who owns five buildings in the neighborhood. It bore stamps and signatures representing about a dozen business firms.

Steinert said his tenants objected, fearing vandalism, fire, and traffic difficulties from teen-agers congregating in the Bret Harte business district.

However, he said, "if it can be policed and on a six-month basis with no liquor permitted, maybe it can be worked out all right."

Approving the permit were Commissioners Carl S. Brown (who acted as chairman because Chairman Fred C. Robbins was suffering temporary hearing impairment from an ear operation), O'Toole, John A. Miskimen, and Jorgen V. Lunding. Commissioners Pat Hetherton and E. A. Connell missed the meeting, and Robbins was absent during discussion of the teen center.

The San Rafael Planning Commission also:

REZONING — Approved, 3-2, rezoning of a lot at Fair Drive and Lincoln Avenue from single-family residential to apartment. The lot adjoins the apartment house owned by Constance Schwartzer which partially collapsed in the 1961 Puerto Suello Tunnel fire. She said she wants to rebuild the apartments on the adjoining lot so the structure will not again be over the tunnel. However, the planning staff recommended against the change, and Commissioners Robbins and Miskimen voted against it.

HOSPITAL — Approved a year's extension of a permit for a 99-bed convalescent hospital at 237 Picnic Avenue, although owners Reinhold Hilderbrandt and Herbert Lenz said they may sell the property. The new owner would build to the plans already approved, they reported through their attorney.

YACHT CLUB — Approved renewal of the use permit for the San Rafael Yacht Club at 405 Francisco Boulevard, although it is on property the City of San Rafael hopes shortly to sell. The yacht club's lease would expire if the property changed hands.

SCHOOL — Set public hearing for March 28 on a permit for a Montessori School at 1428 Mission Avenue, asked by R. A. Menzies. Architect Robert W. F. Severin, who appeared for the applicant, said that location would replace the former Coleman School location

ICE CREAM — Granted Foster Freeze architectural approval for remodeling at 1908 Fourth Street, with a condition for more paving and removal of a free-standing sign.

CAR LOT — Granted Ames Ford Sales architectural approval for a concrete block sales office to be placed on the used car lot at 601 Third Street formerly used by Shamrock Dodge.

PIZZARIA—Granted Edward C. Ryan architectural approval for a Straw Hat Pizza Restaurant at 1837 Fourth Street, to replace an abandoned service station on the property.

Sign Proposal Turned Down

San Rafael Planner Herbert G. Hotchner came up last night with a proposed solution to one of the many kinds of sign problems that beset the city's planning commission — but found no solution seemed wanted.

Before the commission were two applications for signs to direct motorists to places the applicants said are hard to find — the Unitarian-Universalist Church at the top of Channing Way off Professional Street Parkway, and San Rafael Tire and Brake at 666 Irwin Street off Rice Drive.

The church wanted a little sign with six-inch letters at the Terra Linda turnoff from Highway 101. Brodie and Schwerin of the brake service wanted a 48-square foot sign on Northwestern Pacific Railroad property near the new road cut from the freeway intersection to Francisco Boulevard West.

Both were approved — though with the brake service sign cut to 24 square feet. Commissioners Fred C. Robbins and John A. Miskimer dissented on both.

What he proposed was that the city's traffic committee be asked to prepare a policy for directional signs to help drivers locate hard-to-find streets — but without any names of commercial firms (or churches) on them.

Planning Commissioners Robbins, Thomas R. O'Toole and Carl S. Brown said they thought it a fine idea. But Hotchner commented, "You have effectively overruled my recommendation."

Second Chamber Ensemble Concert At Ignacio Slated

The Marin Chamber Ensemble, directed by Dr. S. Drummond Wolff, will present the second in its series of free concerts Sunday at 4 p.m. at the Church in Ignacio.

The contemporary church is in the Pacheco Plaza Shopping Center off Highway 101.

Major work on the program of baroque choral and instrumental music will be Vivaldi's "Magnificat" for solo voices, orchestra and chorus with Leslie Retallick, Carolyn Stewart, Mary Duggan and Craig Bond as soloists.

Other works to be performed are Handel's "Saraband and Boree" and "See the Conquering Hero" for chorus and orchestra; Suite for Strings, Vivaldi; a trumpet solo with orchestra, Holborne; Motets: "Lift Up Your Heads" (for double chorus), Schutz, and "Hosanna," Weelkes; Sonata in C Minor for two violins and continuo, Veracini; organ solo, Fugue at Five Voci in E Flat, J. S. Bach; and brass quintet: "Music for Sackbuts and Cornetts," Coleman.

PET MISSED

Twins Pen Verse For Slain Rabbit

The verse came in an envelope addressed: "In Memory," c/o Independant Journal, 1040 B Street, San Rafael, Calif. It read:

"In memory of my best friend, 'Herricane,' a rabbit

Who was naughtily killed by a bad dog's bad habit.

Rest in heaven, often look after the unhappy me
Please often me see
For I still love you, and I always will.

"Sign this: 'Missing a rabbit.'"

Naturally, there was a story behind it.

"Hurricane" was the pet rabbit of David and Janet Farey, 11-year-old twin children of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Farey of 126 Madrone Avenue, San Anselmo. There are other pets in the Farey family of seven children, but Hurricane was the twin's special pet. David and Janet often took him for walks on a leash.

He was theirs for two years. Then, on Feb. 11, he was killed by a friend's dog.

The friend replaced Hurricane with another rabbit, named Tonita. But the twins have not forgotten their longtime friend. David composed the verse; Janet mailed it to the Independent-Journal.

Painters Union Balks Over Mill Valley Free Project

Refusal by Painters Union Local 83 to donate labor to Mill Valley's proposed paint-up, clean-up of commercial districts will kill the project, chamber of commerce directors were told yesterday by Palmer Field, consultant for the paint-up.

Bill Warrington, business agent for the union, declared the paint-up, promoted by Field, calls for non-union work. "We don't feel this is a charity organization," he said. "They are trying to subsidize merchants in Mill Valley on a charity basis."

Field was bitter because Mrs. Normand Black, a committee member, had approached the union for support, "usurping my responsibility." He contended the non-union outdoor paint-up would generate work for union painters inside the stores.

However, Field was gloomy about the project, saying lack of volunteer women workers to sell the downtown property owners gave little hope.

Mrs. George C. Goheen, a volunteer worker, said she would guarantee 40 participants. The project has been cut back from 80 buildings to 40.

The paint-up is planned for April 22-23, but Field said "it will be a miracle if you can do it in April."

Board Chairman Edward M. Mills appointed chamber directors Peter W. Tibbetts and Richard C. Conrad to work with Field on a new appeal for union support.

Irish Dance Theme

A "sham-rock" dance, complete with a Blarney Stone to kiss and a surprise "name" dance band, will be the featured annual dance of the sophomore class at Novato High School from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. Friday in the old gymnasium at the high school.

Treatment Ordered In Morals Case

Alan K. Loveless, 30, was placed on three years probation and ordered to take psychiatric treatment Monday in Marin Superior Court for contributing to the delinquency of a 6-year-old child last May.

He had pleaded no-contest to the charge. Loveless, of 142 Porteous Avenue, Fairfax, originally was charged with felony molesting of the child and with molesting an 8-year-old child in October of 1965.

Co-Op Marin Ready To Open Tomorrow

Marin County's first consumer-owned supermarket will open at 9 a.m. tomorrow in Corte Madera.

The opening climaxes almost seven years of work on the part of Marin members of the Consumer Co-operative of Berkeley to get a market in the county. The building on Tamal Vista Boulevard will serve as nucleus of a shopping center which is not expected to be completed until the middle of the year.

PETRUS E. TOWNSEND
New cooperative manager

Co-op Marin, as it is called, was designed by Berkeley architect Hachiro Yuasa, with Marquis and Stoller of San Francisco as consultants and Halprin and Associates of San Francisco doing the landscaping. The market will feature a wide selection of foods—canned, bottled and packaged goods, meats, poultry, fresh fish daily, fruits and vegetables, dairy products and an assortment of popular ethnic foods. Included also will be health and beauty aids and wines and liquor.

The co-op maintains a "kiddie korral," where children from 2 to 5 may be left while their mothers shop. under supervision of an attendant. An intercom between the children's section and the store may be used to summon mothers in an emergency. There are also a meeting room for member and community activities, rest rooms, used paperback book exchange, swap shop bulletin board, and member services exchange.

Co-op Marin will be under management of Petrus E. Townsend, who has resided in Corte Madera since January. He joined the Consumer Co-operative in Berkeley in 1951 as a box boy and most recently served in Walnut Creek.

Consumer Co-operative originated in Berkeley in 1937 and has grown to include eight centers in the Bay Area, with approximately 40,000 member families. Co-op Marin claims almost 2,000 members in this county who pay a membership fee and buy shares in the co-operative entitling them to refunds on their purchases. The market will be open to both members and non-members.

The first phase of the Marin facility also houses an office of the Co-operative Center Federal Credit Union under direction of Ross Talley of San Rafael, a Marin resident for 20 years. The loan officer is Mrs. Crystal Herben Mazer of Kent Woodlands. The Marin office opens with savings of more than $100,000 and loans of $150,000 transferred by local residents who have been using other offices in the East Bay.

Another affiliate of the co-operative, Mutual Service Insurance Co., will also open in the center. Two firms leasing space in the first phase of the center, not associated with the co-operative, are Gallery III, a fine arts gallery, and Music Fair, a store selling records and high-fidelity and audio equipment.

The second phase of the center is scheduled for completion in early summer and will include several additional tenants.

Annual patronage volume of Consumers Co-operative stores is reported at just under $25,000,000, with refunds to members averaging 2.5 per cent over the past 15 years.

A private preview of the center will be held tonight from 6 to 9:30. Gifts and prizes will be presented at tomorrow's opening.

CO-OP MARIN READY TO OPEN — Shelves are stocked and the Corte Madera store of Consumers Cooperative of Berkeley will open to the public tomorrow morning. In this picture, assistant store manager Dan Siegle (top) directs clerk Jim Forwood in the arrangement of merchandise. The market is open to both co-op members and non-members. Sausalitan New Pythians Chief

Among the installing officers at the ceremony at the Jack Tar Hotel in San Francisco was the knights' deputy supreme prelate, Alvin Fredieu of San Rafael.

Segrue, who lives at 516 Johnson Street, has been a member of the knights' Muir Lodge 136 in Mill Valley for 20 years. He is an accountant with the United California Bank in San Francisco.

Rezonings Asked By Corte Madera Planning Body

The Corte Madera Planning Commission Monday recommended zoning for three areas being annexed to Corte Madera from Larkspur.

The commission recommended the annexed part of Christmas Tree Hill be zoned residential, part of property adjacent to Williams Avenue be zoned industrial and another area on Williams Avenue be zoned highway commercial, and that the Berkeley Co-operative property be zoned for local shopping. The commission also recommended that the Department of Motor Vehicles property be zoned highway commercial.

The commission recommended to the town council acceptance of Robin Drive, and approved George J. Hagstrom's request for a lot split on Alta Terrace in Chapman Park.

A public hearing on abandonment of Colony Way was set for April 2. Public hearing on Marin Country Day School's request to expand its facilities across Paradise Drive was continued to April 10.

Onderdonk Named Novato Principal

Stanley Onderdonk, vice principal of Novato High School, was named principal for next year by the Novato Unified School District Board last night after interviewing three candidates.

The formal appointment will be made by the board at its regular meeting next Monday night.

Onderdonk will succeed Robert Wisgerhof, who asked to be transferred to a teaching position.

Other candidates considered, it was disclosed today, were Vice Principal Joseph Garguilo and James Kershaw, electronic instructor who has had experience as a high school principal.

Onderdonk joined the Novato school system as high school vice principal in 1961 and had served continuously since except for 10 months' active duty with the Naval Reserve. He is now retired from the Navy.

A native of Greencastle, Ind., he received his bachelor's degree from Wittenberg College in Springfield, Ohio, and his master of arts degree from University of California at Berkeley. He taught at Lemoore High School in Fresno County, Kelseyville High School in Lake County, and Miramonte High School in Orinda before coming to Novato.

He was a Navy fighter pilot in World War II and a Navy patrol commander in the Korean War.

He and his wife and daughter, Kerry, a senior at Novato High School, live at 13 Washington Street, Novato.

Marin Labor Hit By Unemployment

More than 1,000 men are out of work in the building trades in Marin County, many of them with unemployment benefits exhausted, it was reported at last night's meeting of the Marin County Building Trades Council.

Hardest hit of the council's 19 member unions is Carpenters' Local 35 with 393 unemployed, said George Goodfellow, council secretary. Operating Engineers' Local 3, Goodfellow said, reported about 200 men out of work.

The council secretary called the building trades in Marin "very sick." He noted that building permits are running "four or five times below normal" for this time of year. "And there is nothing on the drawing boards when you talk to engineers and architects and other planners," he said.

Goodfellow said his Hodcarriers, Construction and General Laborers Local 291 "has lost 300 members in the last six or seven months. Otherwise, we would have 500 men instead of 200 out of work."

He said, "Plasterers and cement masons are hurting real bad."

Many men, Goodfellow said, are leaving the county to find work. With 1,018 of the approximately 2,800 men in the building trades unions unemployed for months, many have exhausted their unemployment insurance.

Goodfellow said, "I hear every day about cars they've lost and homes they're trying to sell."

Clash Over Rocks Land Is Avoided

An announced confrontation between County Supervisor Thomas T. Storer and county parks and recreation commissioner Gibbs H. Lawson over the handling of Elephant Rocks negotiation never came to pass yesterday.

Storer, who asked Lawson to appear and explain before the board, said he had talked with Lawson and "we agreed that nothing would be served . . . as far as I'm concerned the matter is continued until July."

"July?" Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhoffen asked. "Oh, that's when his (Lawson's term expires."

"You said it. I didn't," Storer said.

Lawson charged last week that Storer's efforts to negotiate purchase of Elephant Rocks for a county park had been minimal and ill-timed.

Quorum Lacking

There was no meeting of the Marinwood Fire Commission last night due to lack of a quorum.

Rubbish Service Decision Stalled

Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District directors last night considered methods to provide rubbish box service, including purchase by the district of a box, but took no action, reported director Gale E. Bishel.

Box service for district rubbish was to have started last month, but Fred Grange Debris Box Service canceled its agreement under pressure from Mill Valley Refuse Service, which last year lost its contract for garbage pickup in Tamalpais Valley.

Directors adjourned to next Wednesday at 7 p.m. in the district office, 305 Bell Lane. Directors Francis M. Small Jr. and Harry Sutcliffe were absent.

Rooftop Burglars Hit Marin City Market

Roof-climbing burglars struck at a Marin City market early today, battering and prying open a large safe to steal $42 in cash before tripping an alarm system.

The break-in, the first reported felony since a beefed-up sheriff's patrol began late last month, occurred at Hayden's Market on Drake Avenue about 4 a.m.

Inspector Marco Melovich said the intruders either scaled a small adjacent shed to reach the roof of the market, which is owned by Daniel Hayden, or stood on their car and pulled themselves onto the roof.

They cut a hole in a fiberglass portion of the roof, and dropped it onto a wine shelf, then to the floor.

Melovich said the burglars, probably two persons, used a sledge hammer, chisel, and crowbar to break two small holes in the door of the roller-type safe, about 45 by 30 inches in size. They then placed the crowbar in one of the holes to spring the door.

The tools were abandoned on the scene, as was a cardboard box filled with about 20 pint bottles of liquor and several cartons of cigarettes. Melovich guessed the thieves left them to bolt when they tripped the burglar alarm.

They broke a window to escape, he said.

The alarm was heard by Colvin Wilson, 305 Drake Avenue, who called sheriff's officers. Deputies said a small trace of blood found on the window indicated one or both burglars cut themselves in leaving.

Undersheriff Sidney Stinson said the burglary is the first felony reported in Marin City since the sheriff's sub-station in southern Marin was increased to 12 men about Feb. 23.

He compared this to a record of five burglaries, two armed robberies, an arson investigation, and recovery of four stolen cars in Marin City during February prior to the beef-up.

Files show that in January there were eight burglaries, no robberies, no arson, one rape, and four stolen car recoveries, he said.

A new mobile sub-station for Marin City will be operative April 3, Stinson reported.

Apathy Cited As Youthful Leaders Quit

The two young co-chairmen of Marin Youth for Action resigned last night, complaining of apathy and lack of social conscience among members.

Rick Behan, 18, and Mikel Stevens, 13, told 50 members of the county-wide group of high school and college students that their resignation was prompted by "the same apathetic attitude that is fast becoming a trademark of American society. Especially in Marin County, the second richest county in the United States, this attitude among youth is prevalent."

Lawrence Lindberg of the Marin county schools office, who acts as adviser to the group, said today the leaders' resignation "was not a surprise; they've been expressing discontent with lack of participation for some time. At the same time, this will provide a challenge to the organization to proceed."

Treasurer Bill Sonnenschein of Terra Linda High School was named acting chairman and will work with the executive board to prepare nominations for the offices by the next meeting, March 28 at the county schools office.

In a prepared letter of resignation Rick and Mikel charged members have turned Marin Youth for Action into a "Tuesday night social club."

Undaunted by their leaders' resignation, members of the group forged ahead with plans for a gigantic conference on narcotics planned for late April at College of Marin.

Focussing on the narcotic problem in schools, the conference will be titled "Psychedelics and Youth—a Dilemma."

Morals Case Reset For Trial In May

Jury trial for Lionel Bridge, 63, originally scheduled for the week of March 27, was continuted in Marin Superior Court Monday until the May 15 master calendar.

Bridge, former Mill Valley photographer now living in San Francisco, is accused of lewd and lascivious behavior with small girls in Mill Valley over a five-month period ending last May 1.

Supervisors Pow-Wow Over Indian Mounds

Emotions got a little primordial among county supervisors during a discussion of Indian mounds yesterday and Chairman Thomas T. Storer called a sudden recess to prevent warfare.

The war paint began showing up when Storer said he had an interim ordinance all set for adoption yesterday to prevent further destruction of Indian mounds in Marin. Supervisors Ernest N. Kettenhofen and John F. McInnis protested that such an ordinance was not listed on the agenda and no one had seen copies of it. The matter was put over for two weeks.

The Indian mound issue was raised by Tom King, survey archaeologist for San Francisco State College, saying that the Herman Fill Co. of San Rafael was digging up a mound on San Antonio Creek.

Charimain Burdell Veronda, owner of the property, protested that she had always cooperated with archaeologists and King's protest came as something of a surprise.

Coast Chamber To Prepare Grievances Against Zucker

Marin Coast Chamber of Commerce last night declared West Marin residents were "sick of being orphans in the county as far as the planning commission and supervisors are concerned."

Chamber president Hanry C. Hankins said the 34 members present at the meeting at Clay's Farm House in Olema unanimously agreed to prepare a list of grievances and present them to the board of supervisors.

Chief target was County Planning Director Paul C. Zucker, whom Hankins accused of forestalling development in West Marin. Hankins said, "Zucker wants to zone this area so we have to go to him and ask for this and ask for that. Property owners wouldn't stand for it in other parts of the county."

Hankins denounced Zucker's request that development in West Marin be held up pending earthquake studies. "He's just dragged the earthquake thing up to stall things. Completion of the West Marin master plan used to be the excuse," declared the chamber president.

Hankins said chamber members will ask West Marin property owners to mail their views and complaints to him at Box 87, Point Reyes Station.

Sanitary Board Votes To Bill Land Receiver

The Novato Sanitary District board Monday night voted to bill the receiver of foreclosed lots in Bel Marin Keys for unpaid sewer connection fees.

Developer Jack West agreed with the district to install the sewers, but sold 22 houses without paying the connection fees of $106 each, said Charles Joseph, district manager.

Eureka Federal Savings and Loan Association is the receiver.

The Novato Sanitary District board also:

ANNEXATION—Approved annexation of the Novato Auto Mart, of 13 acres south of Novato Creek west of Highway 101, and of a lot on Simmons Lane.

Autos Attacked At Night School

Someone attacked the cars of evening school students and employees of San Rafael High School last night, ripping off four radio antennae, police said.

Reporting aerials missing from their autos parked in the school auditorium lot were Dr. Robert L. Samilson of 150 Stewart Drive, Tiburon; Imogene Menard of San Francisco; Tony H. Jurick of 1744 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, and Lloyd L. Curtis of 43 Tamalpais Avenue, San Anselmo.

Sister Wins Lions Club Talk Prize

Christine Smith, 17, Marin Catholic High School senior, last night won the student speakers contest for the Lions Club's southern Marin zone at Mill Valley golf clubhouse.

Christine, who won the local contest sponsored by Sausalito Lions Club, will compete in the county contest April 3 at 8 p.m. in the Civic Center.

Competing with her was her brother, Robert D. Smith, Redwood High School junior representing Corte Madera Lions Club. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Smith, 198 Tulane Drive, Larkspur.

Third speaker was Paula von Loewenfeldt, Marin Catholic High School senior. Paula, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles von Loewenfeldt, 230 Forbes, Avenue, San Rafael, represented Mill Valley Lions Club.

Unification To Be Studied

"One-man-one-vote" representation on the Marin County Committee on School District Organization will be discussed by the committee at its meeting at 8 p.m. today at the county schools office in Corte Madera.

Recommendation that committee representation be based on population was made by the 1966 county grand jury, which took a dim view of the present system of representation by school districts.

The committee will also receive from Asst. County Supt. of Schools Robert F. Stannard a timetable of future unification elections to conform to a recent opinion of Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch that one must be held within two years of each unsuccessful election.

To Start Paper

Oakley W. Dexter Jr. told the Larkspur Chamber of Commerce yesterday that he and Robert R. Busse plan to start a small monthly newspaper for Larkspur's advertising, to be mailed free to every home in the city, in about two months.

Scott Runs Union Local Gathering

George R. Scott, president of the Marin County Building Trades Council, presided at last night's council meeting, apparently having won a long political battle within Painters' Union Local 83.

On Feb. 14, Frank Gneri, Local 83 president, announced that Scott had been ousted by a membership vote of 35-to-7 as delegate to the trades council and as secretary of the local.

Scott called the action illegal and said he intended to appeal to the union international to complete his terms as delegate which runs till next January and as treasurer till June, 1968.

Today, Ernest Kennedy, financial secretary of the painters' local, confirmed that the international had upheld Scott's claim to both posts.

Directors Ask Road Widening

Directors of Terra Linda Community Services District last night asked that Marin County Public Works Department to widen Las Gallinas Avenue from a two to a four-lane street, noting that the road will soon be extended to Marinwood and there will be much additional traffic.

Directors also asked that stop signs be placed on all streets entering Las Gallinas and that landscaping be placed along the north side of the median district in Manual Freitas Parkway, district secretary Cleo Murray reported.

Opening lead — ◇ 9

A relatively unknown Australian player came in for quite a bit of attention recently when he made a fine play that most other tournament stars missed.

When today's hand was played some months ago in the Australian National Championships practically everybody made three notrump with the North-South cards.

In all cases, regardless of the opening lead, East got in twice: once with the king of diamonds and the other time with the ace of hearts.

UNIQUE TABLE

At all tables but one East shifted to the deuce of clubs upon winning his first trick.

South played low, and West won with the jack. Unable to continue the attack on clubs, West had to switch to another suit.

South had time to knock out the ace of hearts. He therefore won three hearts (when that suit broke favorably), two spades, three diamonds and a club.

ODD RESULT

Pearce won the first trick with the king of diamonds and shifted to a club — but not to the deuce. He led the 10 of clubs to prevent South from passing the first trick safely to West.

Declarer thought of putting up the ace of clubs, which would save the contract if West had the ace of hearts.

Three cheers for C. Pearce!

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one spade.

You cannot afford to jump to two notrump because you do not have a stopper in the unbid heart suit.

Bid your major suit, such as it is, and await developments.

Hub Council Extends Time On Slide Work

San Anselmo City Council last night agreed to allow several more months for completion of site work and grading on a hillside property at 21 Loma Robles Drive.

The conucil was told by Mill Valley architect Norman T. Gilroy that the property is not a slide hazard as the city has feared. Gilroy, representing an unnamed group of owners, said $30,000 has been spent on the property to correct site problems.

Two weeks ago, the council ordered Public Works Director Charles R. Leitzell to grade and plant the property to avert a slide onto property below, after Gilroy failed to appear at the council meeting.

Gilroy said last night he had been notified of the meeting only two hours beforehand. He said the site is stable now, with surface erosion the only problem. A giant concrete dam was found underground on the property, he said, installed by a former owner after a 1955 slide. But the dam, poured into a crack opened by the slide, actually worsened conditions on the hill by holding water back, he claimed. He said his group had the dam broken up and removed.

Another objection is a boarded-up house on the property, Councilman Duane C. Ragan told Gilroy. Gilroy said it had cost $900 to put windows in, and they had been broken out twice by vandals.

Gilroy said repeated council references and newspaper stories calling the property a "slide area" have made it harder to get financing for development.

The council agreed to Mayor John M. Reichmuth's suggestion that the owners be given a few months to complete site work.

A slide occurred on the property three years ago, Leitzell told the council, and repair work was never completed. Minor slips have occurred since then, he said.

Sausalito Councilmen Balk At Employee Pay Proposal

The Sausalito City Council last night approved numerous changes in budget preparation suggested by City Mgr. George M. Patterson.

But councilmen balked at Patterson's key proposal to include a plan for city employee pay hikes in the budget. Mayor Mel Wax said he felt the city paid adequate salaries.

No committment was won from the council, either, on recommendations for a capital improvements budget and hiring a full-time city planner.

Patterson, city manager only four months, wants to streamline budget procedure. Most of the changes endorsed last night, he said, will make the budget easier to administer and audit, yet involve no additional work.

The changes include: listing of funds under more representative categories, allowing Patterson to transfer money for city maintenance within a division of a city department, streamlining bookeeping operations to conform to the budget reorganization, and adoption of a better method of projecting revenues.

In rejecting the salary plan, Wax said Sausalito was paying the highest employee wages in the county.

"And don't think that if we're hurting for money, we're going to cut salaries," he added. "It doesn't work that way."

Earlier, at a special meeting, the council certified the results of the March 7 election at which voters rejected a $250,000 library bond issue. The vote, 92 yes to 747 no, fell short of the required two-thirds margin for passage.

The library board is to meet at 8 p.m. Monday in city hall to decide the next move.

Tiburon Prowler Is Apprehended

Tiburon sheriff's deputy Vincent L. Carrara, responding to a call from Jackque Helen Callahan at 11:30 p.m. Monday of a prowler at her residence, found David Ray Fegenbush, 26, falling down the stairs.

Fegenbush who gave his residence as Ojai, Ventura County, was booked at Marin County Jail on suspicion of burglary and drunkenness.

Transportation Study Cost Authorized

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday authorized a $2,500 study—half of what was sought—to pave the way for a "balanced transportation plan" for the county.

The appropriation, latest in a string for transit studies, will enable the county to hire specialists to digest information collected on traffic in Marin by the Bay Area Transit Study Commission and the Bay Toll Crossing Authority.

County Public Works Director Donald R. Frost and Planning Director Paul C. Zucker had sought $5,000 for the study, but the supervisors passed, 4-1, a proposal by Supervisor Peter H. Behr to limit the price to $2,500.

Supervisor John F. McInnis dissented, arguing that the study would be of no value in helping the board to reach a determination on a right-of-way for the proposed Highway 17 extension.

The supervisors sidestepped State Division of Highways' proposals for Highway 17 at a public hearing last year, saying there should be a "balanced transportation plan" before deciding on a route.

Supervisor William Gnoss' favorable vote yesterday was a surprise. During discussion, he had declared his belief that county staff could gather the transit data without help from specialists.

In proposing the reduced figure, Behr said the nature of the study was too "indefinite" to justify spending $5,000.

"It is not efficient to go over there full-blown when you say simply there is something good over there and we should get it," he said.

Chairman Thomas T. Storer, while acknowledging the county had authorized "wasteful" transit studies in the past, thought this one a "bargain."

"In this particular instance," he said, "the staff is unanimous that we can gain some meaningful information" on Marin's transportation dilemma.

Master Plan On Tap For Marin College

The Marin Junior College District board may award an $83,100 contract for a 10-year district master plan tomorrow at 8 p.m. in room G3 of the physical education building at the College of Marin.

The board March 2 authorized negotiation with Management and Economics Research Inc. of Palo Alto for the master plan with the contract to be submitted at this meeting.

Norman Bird, college business manager, said the contract figure is based on the time expected to complete the master plan, which will include projections of the district's needs in the next decade at both Kentfield and North Marin campuses. Bird said the plan might even include a third campus, if projections show one is needed.

He said the contract figure is a maximum, and the actual cost of the plan could be less if materials needed for the study are available at the college.

A representative of the firm at the March 2 meeting said the plan would cost about one per cent of the cost of the buildings projected in it.

A master plan was made about six years ago for the Kentfield campus, but Acting President Irwin P. Diamond said this is the first plan considered for the entire district.

The board will hear reports on evening credit and non-credit enrollment, and on high school students enrolled in college credit courses. Applications for nine projects under the Vocational Education Act, and for a $5,000 federal grant for library materials will be considered.

The board will act on re-employment for next school year of present faculty members. A proposed schedule of summer classes will be presented, and the board will consider adding two non-credit courses, "Overview of Construction," a carpentry course, and "Vocational Technical Occupational Exploration."

Youngster Pulls Knife On Guard At Northgate

A 14-year-old San Rafael youth, showing a knife, threatened yesterday to stab an employee of the Emporium in Northgate Shopping Center, after being chased from the building, police said.

The youth, accompanied by two 13-year-olds, was chased from the store at 2:15 p.m. by Louis V. Boscola, in charge of store protection, when he observed them riding the escalators and creating a disturbance.

Once outside, police said, the 14-year-old cursed at Boscola and threatened to cut him with a pocket knife.

Bicycle Stolen

A bicycle stolen from the Reed School lot was recovered at 2:30 p.m. yesterday at Hilarita Housing by Lt. George R. Barnes of the Tiburon Sheriff's sub-station. Mrs. Robert Temby, 524 San Rafael Avenue, Belvedere, had reported her son's bike stolen at 9 a.m.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

The Neck Is Crowded With A Complex System Of Arteries

VAN DELLEN

The neck is crowded with anatomy. Main arteries go upwards toward the brain and others turn outwards on their way to the arms. Large veins follow suit except the flow is toward the heart. In addition the nerves of the brachial plexus spread out to reach the shoulders, upper chest, and arms. The center of the neck houses the vertebrae, windpipe, larynx, esophagus, thyroid, and parathyroid glands.

The blood vessels and nerves wind their way between muscles, ligaments, the first few ribs, and the shoulder bone. The bones and muscles move whenever the neck is turned, the shoulders elevated, and the arm is raised or rotated. In other words, there is considerable activity in this area without disturbing the blood flow and nerve impulses.

OVERCROWDING does not occur unless a muscle is displaced or thickened because of irritation or overdevelopment. In some persons an extra rib takes up additional space. Scar tissue resulting from injuries may pinch a nerve or vessel whenever the arm is raised or the head is turned. Congestion leads to a narrowing of the space between bones, ligaments, or muscles causing marked pressure upon the veins, arteries, and nerves. A number of neurovascular compression syndromes are suspected whenever discomfort develops in the fingers, hand, forearm, neck or shoulders. The distress usually is intermittent and follows certain movements of the arm or neck.

Examples of this disorder include cramping in the hand and forearm of the woman who brushes her hair for lengthy periods or the man who washes the top of cars. In both instances, the arms are held over the head. Pain or numbness that develops in the forearm when driving is also caused by compression in the neck.

GANGRENE of the hand has been reported after unusual activity of the arm. In these cases the blood clots when the circulation dwindles. A complete examination including special tests is needed to find the compression site. Surgery brings relief.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal.)

CHARACTER CHANGE

Mrs. E. R. writes: Would hardening of the arteries cause a complete change in character of a person?

REPLY

Not necessarily. It is well to remember that these changes occur also in individuals with normal arteries. In addition, the arteries begin to harden early in life with no change in personality.

LIFE AGAINST LIFE

E. Y. writes: What does the word antibiotic mean?

REPLY

It is an old scientific term that was revived when penicillin was discovered. It means pitting one life against another. Penicillin, for example, is made from a living mold and is capable of killing other living organisms such as streptococci and staphylococci.

FARFETCHED

D. H. writes: Will drinking lots of grapefruit juice prevent prostate trouble?

REPLY

No, and neither will any other citrus juice.

Strep Infections Still Head List

Streptococcus infections continued to strike Marin County last week with a whopping 81 cases reported. Novato, which has consistently led the county in strep cases in recent months, reported 38 cases, with San Rafael listing 25, San Anselmo four, Kentfield and Corte Madera three each, and others in every town in the county except Ross.

Novato also held the unenviable lead in mumps too, reporting 14 cases, with isolated cases also reported in Sausalito and Belvedere-Tiburon.

According to county health officer Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht 13 cases of gonorrhea were reported, three of syphilis, and one each of tuberculosis and shigella.

Postponing Salary Study Agreed Upon

The Kentfield School District Board and district employees Monday night agreed to postpone decision on salary increases until the district has a clearer idea of its expected income.

Supt. Anthony G. Bacich said district income may increase as little as one or two per cent next fiscal year. He said no decision on pay raises could be reached until the district's assessed valuation is established.

Gene L. Hendsch, principal of Wolfe Grade School, was appointed principal of the summer session of worksops, June 22 to July 21. The board did not decide what school will be used.

The board adopted a new policy giving teachers sabbatical leave of one year at half-pay, with a maximum of two teachers a year to be given leave, and granted the district's first sabbatical leave to Mrs. Elna Farr, a kindergarten teacher at Greenbrae School.

The board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Jean Larkin, who has been with the district 14 years. She is on leave and last taught second grade at Wolfe Grade School.

The board asked Bacich to meet with representatives of the county public works department and county cousel to determine what measures can be taken to prevent flooding of Wolfe Grade Creek.

Eagle Squadron Reunion Slated

Some 40 ex-members of the famous American Eagle squadron from the early days of World War II will be reunited in a reunion this weekend at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Maj. Gen. Carroll W. McColpin, a former Eagle Squadron commander and now the head of the Fourth Air Force, will be host to the reunion.

During the early days of World War II, Americans flying for the British Royal Air Force during the Battle of Britain, formed the Eagle Squadron, under Col. Charles Sweeney. Soon there were five of these squadrons.

The Americans were transferred to the U.S. Army Air Corps in September, 1942.

Decision On Building Is Postponed

West Marin School District Board Monday night postponed dicision on a contractor's request for extension of the completion date on its building program from Feb. 15 to March 15.

Involved are $50 a day in penalties which might be assessed Pace Pacific Enterprises if extension is not approved, according to Supt. Howard F. Brose.

Even if that extension is allowed, Brose held out no hope that the library-classroom, kindergarten and maintenance buildings at West Marin School would be ready for occupancy by Wednesday. He said, "I'm hoping we can possibly move in after Easter vacation."

Originally planned for completion last fall, construction has been delayed by unforeseen soil and construction problems and, more recently, by rain. Action on the new extension will be at the next meeting, April 11.

The board was told by J. Jackson Austin, county schools office guidance counselor, that recent state reading tests required by the state showed that West Marin sixth graders achieved a 6.2 average for comprehension of paragraphs but was slightly behind in word meaning with a 5.9 average.

The board accepted the resignation of fourth grade teacher Mrs. Caroline Sibins, effective June 30.

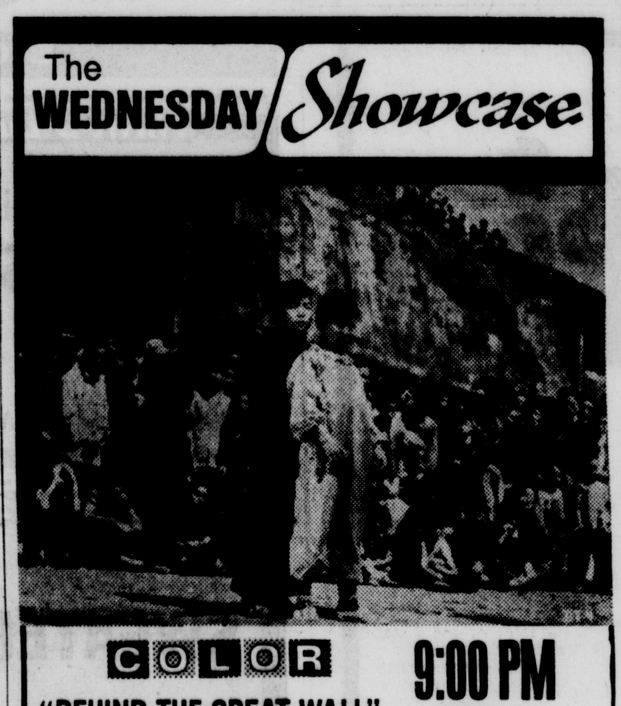

Garden Topic

James W. Wilson will speak on "Growing Your Own" at a meeting of the Garden Society of Marin Friday at 8 p.m. in the chemistry building of the College of Marin, room 40.

Five Marinites Set For Navy Training

Five Marin County men have enlisted in the Navy's "Join Now, Go Later" program and have a 120-day delay before reporting for recruit training in San Diego.

They are: Vincent A. Adock, 19, of 28 Corte Del Norte, Greenbrae; Christopher L. Morse, 18, of 25 Oakview Drive, San Rafael; Edward M. Boyle, 19, of 23 Crescent Drive, Woodacre; and Mill Valley residents Peter E. Beckham, 19, of 91 Nelson Avenue, Ernest R. DeBartok, 19, of 292 Miller Avenue, and Laurence J. Maffei, 19, of 66 Meadow Road.

Education Board Halts Staff Complaint Study

The San Rafael Board of Education attempted last night to thrash out a policy on complaints against staff members, and after an hour sent it back for revision.

The key clash came over a sentence that "anonymous or hearsay complaints will not be acknowledged."

Board member Anita C. Strom wanted to know if a complaint would be considered "anonymous" if it were relayed by a board member and the name of the parent not revealed. She said she lodged a complaint last year and the "teacher considered it anonymous" because the name of the parent was not revealed.

Walter B. Belden, a high school teacher, said, "The right to face an accuser is a constitutional right that can't even be denied a teacher."

Board member Lawrence I. Kramer said a parent should be prepared to "stand up" and give his name.

Board member Paul L. Jones claimed there have ben situations where parents complained and students were penalized. "It's unprofessional, but it does exist," he said. Thomas Place, a teacher at College of Marin, challenged this, saying Jones should offer proof of such a charge.

Hugh Broyles, of the faculty negotiating council, said, "the big problem has been lack of communication among the board, administration and teachers."

The revised policy will be read at the next meeting, March 28.

The board, noting a letter from John G. Buresh of San Rafael opposing use of the former administration building at San Rafael High School by the San Rafael Cooperative Nursery School. Kramer suggested that Supt. John F. Plank check the question of legality raised by Buresh.

The San Rafael Board of Education also:

SCHOOL SITE — Agreed to start condemnation proceedings to acquire a 9.1-acre elementary school site at Riviera and Biscayne Drive in Peacock Gap, after Deputy County Counsel Richard Godino reported that title to the property is clouded with 31 encumberances and it is impossible to determine who to negotiate with.

ASSOCIATION DUES—Agreed to continue membership in the California School Boards Association and pay dues of about $900 for both districts.

CLOSED SESSION — Held a closed session to discuss contract renewal for "probationary" teachers, and then at open session renewed contracts.

HIRING—Hired Cecil Clary as curriculum center clerk, part-time, at $2,136 a year; Jerry Curtis, substitute custodian, $2.31 an hour; Robert Scott, substitute bus driver, $2.31 an hour, and Mrs. Claudia Simon, noon supervisor, Glenwood School.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted resignations of Mrs. Judith Bridenbaugh, second grade teacher at Bahia Vista School, effective June 30, and Mrs. Susan Tescher, noon supervisor at Glenwood School, effective March 31.

MEETING DATES— Adjourned until March 28 at 7:30 p.m. at the Administration Building, Third and E Streets, and switched the second meeting in April from April 25 to April 26.

MINIMUM DAY—Approved a minimum school day, (one hour shorter than regular) on March 31 so faculty members can attend a book fair at Terra Linda High School.

Fiberglass Boat, Trailer Stolen

Albert Rubio, 166 Homestead Avenue, told deputies the boat and trailer, owned by James Hardee McDade of San Francisco, were stolen Sunday.

Atomic Energy Lecture To Be Given At School

A demonstration lecture on atomic energy and its uses will be presented March 30 at San Rafael High School by the Atomic Energy Commission.

Special electronic equipment will be used by lecturer David N. Jenkins to show sources of radiation, how atomic energy provides electric power, and the use of radioisotopes in study of diseases and life processes.

Jenkins will speak at an assembly, then give a blackboard talk to science classes dealing more specifically with topics like atomic structure, radioactivity, radiation biology and careers in nuclear science.

The program is sponsored by Oak Ridge Associated Universities, a non-profit corporation which handles the AEC's national exhibits program.

Marin Lures Business From Commuting Life

A major West Coast investment securities firm will move its headquarters from San Francisco to Marin County early next month to avoid loss of time through commuting, parking problems, and high financial district rental costs.

Waldron and Co., Inc., will occupy 2,200 square feet in the Margarita Plaza, 4380 Redwood Highway, at the entrance of Northgate Industrial Park, San Rafael. An option has been taken to add another 1,100 square feet in January.

Darrell O. Holleyman of Lucas Valley, company president, said he spends two and one-half hours a day going back and forth to San Francisco which could be used in working time. His brother David, in charge of trading and also a Lucas Valley resident, loses the same amount of time. Bink H. Beckmann of Marinwood, a registered representative with the firm, has the same problem, Holleyman said. And "here in Marin we will have larger offices for two-thirds of the rental cost in the city."

Waldron has been headquartered in the Russ Building in San Francisco. Holleyman bought into the company in 1961 and is now the major stockholder.

The firm has branch offices in Spokane, Portland, Eureka, Orland, Sacramento, Santa Rosa, and San Jose. It employs 50 representatives and will have an office staff of about six in Marin. All clearing, trading and cashiering will be done in this office, Holleyman said. Two new employees, George Gregory and Tony Canteras, live in Terra Linda and San Anselmo, respectively, and three members of the office staff are planning to move to Marin.

The company reported sales of approximately 10 million dollars in 1966, of which 6.5 million dollars was in mutual funds. This represented a growth in mutual fund production from $981,000 in 1963, Holleyman said, with profits increasing tenfold and a doubling of the sales force.

Waldron is not a member of any stock exchange but is a member of the National Association of Security Dealers. The company offers trading facilities to its customers through a correspondent stock exchange member. Between 5,000 and 8,000 customer accounts are being served, Hollyman said.

The company's plans call for opening for business in the Margarita Plaza on April 3.

GOP Council Names Committee Leaders

Four new committee chairmen have been named by the Marin Republican Council, President Harry Diner announced yesterday.

Henry J. Broderick will head the community affairs committee; Robert Derryberry, precinct organization; Donald Blinco, youth advisory, and Leighton Hatch, speakers committee. The chairmen were chosen at a directors' meeting last week.

Jesus Alou Getting Off To Good Start

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Jesus Alou, youngest of the three baseball brothers, works this spring with an enthusiasm belying his request after last season that the San Francisco Giants trade him.

Seemingly convinced he'll get the big chance in '67, and without the sore arm which plagued him during last spring, Alou has been driving the ball in the spring games.

As the Giants lost to the Chicago Cubs 5-4 yesterday, Alou drove in two of the runs, the first with a single and the second with a 400-foot solo homer off Ferguson Jenkins, the pitcher who handcuffed the Giants in the Cactus League opener.

"Alou is in the best shape ever for a spring and with more experience," commented Vice President Chub Feeney.

In 15 times at bat, Alou has six hits including a double and his home run.

Manager Herman Franks has moved him to left field with Ollie Brown expected to handle the right field Alou has played in the past.

The loss to the Cubs put the Giants spring record at 2-3 but the exhibitions have atually been two games in one — the first five innings when the varsity plays and the next four when Franks gives the youngsters a chance to show their abilities.

After right-hander Ron Herbel became the first Giant hurler to work four innings and did it in shutout form, rookie Jim Carroll, a 6-foot 3-inch prospect off the campus of Mississippi State was the victim of hard luck and a grand slam home run.

With two out and Adolfo Phillips on base via a walk, Don Kessinger was safe when second baseman Hal Lanier booted his grounder. Then Carroll receipted for an error on a Glenn Beckert grounder to load the bases.

Billy Williams clouted the next pitch over the right field fence. Chicago scored the decider off lefty Al Stanek in the seventh on consecutive singles by Norm Gigon, Ernie Banks and Jim Raudman.

Alou drove in one of the runs in a two-run second inning after Willie McCovey doubled and Jim Davenport tripled. Alou's homer came in the fourth and in the eighth Dick Dietz doubled and Cesar Gutierrez singled him home.

The Giants play Cleveland at Phoenix today, go to Tucson to meet the Tribe again tomorrow and then entertain the California Angels in a pair.

49ERS, RAIDERS PICK SIX MORE IN DRAFT

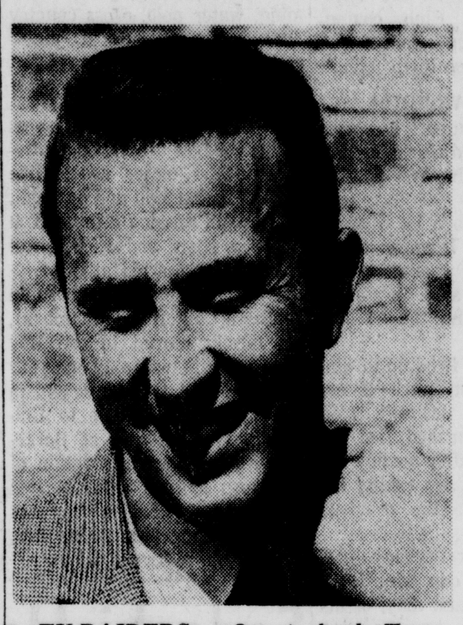

As the mammoth joint NFL-AFL draft of collegiate gridders went into its second day and eighth round, the San Francisco 49ers and Oakland Raiders drafted six more players today.

The 49ers drafted Mississippi halfback Doug Cunningham, Tulsa halfback Milt Jackson and Tuskegee linebacker Walter Johnson while the Raiders tabbed Wyoming quarterback Rick Egloff, Tennessee Martin defensive tackle Ron Lewellen and Colorado halfback Estes Banks.

Trades Shock Bay Area Grid Fans

Big Deals By 49ers, Raiders

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The news from the first combined professional football draft hit San Francisco area fans like a series of shock waves from a multiple explosion.

First, the National Football League San Francisco 49ers surprisingly acquired draft rights to Heisman Trophy winning quarterback Steve Spurrier from Atlanta in exchange for three veterans.

They were flanker Bernie Casey, defensive end Jim Norton and offensive guard Jim Wilson.

Then the Oakland Raiders gave up their two top stars — quarterback Tom Flores and end Art Powell—to Buffalo for backup quarterback Daryl Lamonica and split end Glenn Bass.

Also acquired by the Raiders were Buffalo's third - round choice and the fifth round choice of Kansas City, which Buffalo owned. Oakland, however, had to surrender its second-round rights to Buffalo.

QUESTIONS

As the massive selection process continued today in New York, some of the players affected by the deals began to ask questions.

"Why me?" was one asked by Flores, who had his best year in 1966 for Oakland in leading the Raiders to a second - place finish in the Western Division of the American Football League.

"After seven years, I've got to start fighting for a job all over again," Flores lamented. "I suffered through the building years with Oakland when the club was a loser. Now that it's a class contender .. I have to leave."

The 49ers were not known to be interested in Spurrier, the Florida All America. They already have two top quarterbacks in John Brodie and George Mira.

RUMORS

There have ben many rumors this year that Brodie was to be traded. Mira has often complained about not playing enough and has asked to be traded.

"For the 57th time, we have no plans to trade Brodie or Mira," said 49er general manager Lou Spadia.

And San Francisco coach Jack Christiansen, who made the actual selection of the 6-foot-2, 192-pound Spurrier, said, "The only thing better than having two great quarterbacks is having three of them. I think every club should have three great ones so that if something happens to one, there'll always be a great one ready to step in."

Mira simply declared he still was going to play out his option.

Baylor's Southall Drafted By Colts In Sixth Round

NEW YORK (AP) — The Baltimore Colts picked Baylor quarterback Terry Southall in the opening round of the second day of the combined National and American Football League draft today.

The Colts, who recently traded their reserve quarterback, Gary Cuozzo, to New Orleans for the Saints' top draft choice, passed up quarterbacks in the early rounds of the draft yesterday and used the New Orleans' pick to get Bubba Smith, Michigan State's All-America defensive end.

Other early choices in the second day of the draft, which opened with the sixth round, were George Harvey, a Kansas guard chosen by New Orleans; Don Bandy, a Tulsa tackle picked by Washington, and Pete Barnes, a linebacker from Southern University, who went to Houston.

Southall was the 137th player to be chosen in the draft, which will continue until late today or possibly early Thursday. In all, 445 players will be chosen in the 17 rounds of the draft.

Giants Need Catcher-Pitcher Co-Op To Cut Down Stealers

Tom Haller is an intellectual behind the plate. Carl Hubbell once so described the Giant catcher.

HANLEY

All baseball men have had a good word for Haller at one time or another. Virgil Trucks was extravagant in his praise of Haller first time he saw him in 1961. Trucks was a Pirate coach then and Haller a Giant rookie.

"HE'LL BE ANOTHER Bill Dickey," predicted Trucks. "Right now he's as smooth as a 10-year veteran on fouls behind the plate. He fields them flawlessly. And he gets the ball down to second in a hurry."

Haller would be the first to admit that he doesn't get the ball down to second now as fast as he should. It isn't entirely his fault. But Haller is not one to point the finger as somebody else.

THE FACT IS that some Giant pitchers are very slow in getting rid of the ball when there is a runner at first. In other words, they are not simplifying Haller's problem. Indeed, they are complicating it. At least they did last season.

Bob Bolin and Lindy McDaniel are two Giant pitchers on whom runners got a big jump. Ron Herbel and Frank Linzy also have difficulty in keeping runners close to first.

THIS SPRING those pitchers and Haller are working toward closer cooperation, a liaison that will cut down enemy stolen bases. The necessity for pinpoint timing between pitcher and catcher was highlighted in the very first exhibition game this spring.

THE CUBS STOLE two bases in that game. The thefts came, incidentally, while Bob Barton was catching, not Haller. Barton, who will be No. 2 catcher this season behind Haller, has an accurate arm. However, he was not entirely responsible for permitting the thefts.

In the first steal, Herbel was pitching at the time. Jim Stewart, after singling, got a pretty good jump on Herbel. Barton, hurrying his throw, pegged high and Stewart slid in safely at second.

IN THE SECOND STEAL, McDaniel was pitching. Adolfo Phillips, a flyer, drew a two-out walk from Lindy in the ninth. Phillips got a fair jump on Lindy. Barton's throw this time was low and right on target but Phillips beat it by the closest of margins.

It's going to take precise Giant pitcher-catcher teamwork to keep enemy thieves honest this season, particularly when those pitchers who haven't mastered the "half balk" are at work.

WARRIORS FALL BY 29

76ers Win Again

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Warriors close out their regular home season tomorrow against the National Basketball Association team that has given them the most trouble—the Philadelphia 76ers.

Of course most clubs have had trouble with the Eastern Division champs, who've lost only 12 games.

Veteran Larry Costello made his first start for Philadelphia since injuring a knee Jan. 6 and made the game's first two baskets on lay-ups. The Warriors never caught up and Costello, by pre-game arrangement, was benched after seven minutes. He scored seven points.

Greer was the one who did the deciding, hitting on four straight jump shots starting the second half which increased the 76er halftime lead from 75-62 to 83-65.

McKeever Surprised By Trade To Vikes

PASADENA (AP) — Mixed emotions, a tired but timely phrase, belonged today to Marlin McKeever over his trade by the Los Angeles Rams to the Minnesota Vikings for running back Tommy Mason and tight end Hal Bedsole.

Reached at his home in Pasadena, the 235-pound 27-year-old McKeever called the trade: "A surprise? No question about that. But I am pleased that I was traded for two proven players, Mason and Bedsole and not for a couple of nothing guys."

McKeever, who was a tight end and former All-America at the University of Southern California, said, "I hate to leave Los Angeles as a player. But I am fortunate to have played here this long."

He referred to the fact that he and his twin brother Mike, one of the most famous brother acts in football played high-school football in the shadow of the Los Angeles Memorial Colisium then at Southern California. Then Marlin for the past six years has been with the Rams.

Mike has been in a coma for about two years and never made it into pro football.

"I wish the Rams the best in the future. They'll have a good team next season," McKeever said after the trade.

Weather Havoc In MCAL Action

It's getting to be a horrible, familiar tune to Marin County Athletic League preps, but bad weather yesterday slammed the door on much of the non-league slate for the second stright week.

As usual, baseballers absorbed the largest blow with Drake vs. Hogan (twin-bill), at Drake; Novato vs. Salesian, at Novato, and San Rafael vs. Riordan, at Albert Field, yielding to soggy diamonds. San Rafael was to play Riordan's nine this evening at San Rafael High, while Novato has re-scheduled its clash with Salesian for tomorrow, at Salesian.

San Rafael's Albert Field, incidentally, used by several MCAL teams, is reportedly in poor condition, according to San Rafael coach Jack Sims, and probably won't be in shape for baseball action scheduled there this afternoon.

In other competion, San Rafael's track meet with Santa Rosa, at San Rafael, was cancelled for the same slippery reason, while Drake's tennis squad called off its trip to Petaluma because of rain in that Northern area.

Marin Catholic, meanwhile, won a 6-1 baseball decision over host El Camino as Brian King and Tom Schalick combined for a one-hitter, each hurler fanning seven in their successive three and four inning stints, with Schalick allowing the safety in the fourth.

Terra Linda's swimming team lost a narrow 47-48 decision to host Berkeley in the lone swim meet; and in tennis competition Redwood blanked visiting Lick-Wilmerding 7-0; Tamalpais tied highly-regarded Lowell (S.F.) 4-4, at Lowell and Novato clipped Montgomery 3-2, at San Rosa. In another tennis meet, San Rafael blanked Vallejo, 7-0.

Rounding out the action, Terra Linda's golf team edged San Leandro 211-212 at Marin Country Club (actually, by one stroke in the new medal play, inverted scoring system that takes the aggregate score of the best five of six team members), John Durce winning individual medal honors with 39; while Novato down Drake 206-242, Ray Leach winning medal honors with a two-over-par 38, at Indian Valley Golf Course.

Providence Falls, It's Heavenly

NEW YORK (UPI)—" . . . To beat Providence is divine."

This was part of a telegram sent by a Marquette well-wisher before the Warriors walked on the Madison Square Garden basketball court last night to face the Friars and departed with an 81-80 overtime victory.

The wire read in full: "To defeat Tulsa was human, to beat Providence is divine." A postscript reading, "To stop Marshall would be heavenly" is expected shortly. Marquette faces Marshall tomorrow in one end of a semi-final doubleheader. Rutgers, which beat New Mexico 65-60 yesterday, meets Southern Illinois in the other half of the bracket.

WALKER MISSES

A missed shot by All-America Jim Walker with three seconds remaining enabled Marquette to edge Providence in one of the most foot-stomping games of the 1967 National Invitation Tournament.

Walker, who scored 36 points to just about reach the average he owns in Garden action over several NIT classics and Holiday Festivals, sent the game into overtime with a pair of foul shots that deadlocked the score at 74-all after regulation play.

"I missed the important shots in overtime," a glum-faced Walker said. His failure to reach the semi-finals and the title or consolation round may have cost this ace collegian the national scoring championship.

ONE OTHER CHANCE

Walker had one other chance to put his team in front during the last minute of a fury-packed extra session that started with Bob Wolf scoring a pair of free throws and a basket for Marquette.

Wolf, a hustling Warrior ball handler who tried to win his Academy Award by clasping his head or back every time he fell, led Marquette with 24 points. George Thompson scored 19 points for the Warrios. Skip Hayes also had 24 points for Providence.

Bob Lloyd of Rutgers, the other UPI All-America appearing in the tourney, fell short of his opening round 42-point effort against Utah State when he scored 23 against Mexico's Lobos.

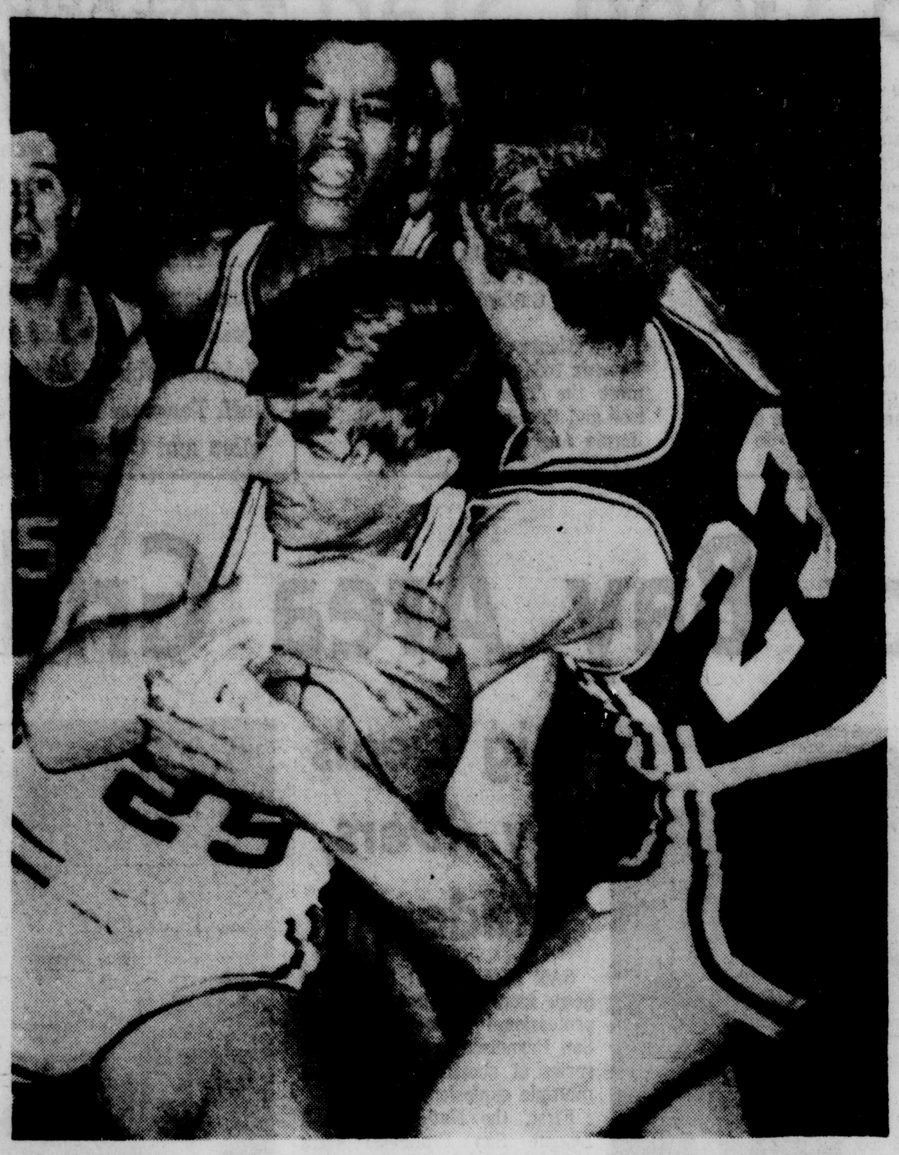

"I don't think I turned in my best effort," the sandy-haired Lloyd said as he pulled his tie tight and patted his collar tabs into place. "Southern Illinois is quite a team on defense, I hear, and it will be up to our talented sophs to score against them."

UNSUNG HERO

Jim Valvano, the Scarlet Knights' unsung guard who averaged 15.5 points a game during the regular season, added 14 to the Rutgers total in the victory over a team that was favored to win by at least three points.

Lloyd ripped off the last five points in the first half and the Knights trotted off the court with a 3-25 lead. A taller Lobo squad was demolished by its own inability to contro the enemy boards. New Mexico sent up shots that missed the target by wide margins and caromed off at crazy angles. The alert Rutgers team capitalized on these miscues with swift sorties down the floor for additional points.

Mel Daniels, the 6-9 Lobo center, whom Lloyd says is Pro material if he can learn some more moves, led New Mexico with 19 points. Ron Nelson, who covered Lloyd closer than adhesive tape sticking to an open wound, tallied 15 for the Lobos.

IS IT MINE? — That could be the question Dan Anderson (left) of Marquette is asking as he battles for possession with Donal Henders of Providence during National Invitational Tournament basketball game in New York. (AP Wirephoto)

Sanders Says He's Fired Up

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Doug Sanders doesn't worry about many things, and the dapper defending champion of the Greater Jacksonville Open Golf Tournament says he definitely isn't going to worry about his collapse in the last two rounds of the Citrus Open.

"I just had a let down, that's all," Sanders said in explaining his disastrous finish at Orlando, where he shot a 73 and 74 after opening with a pair of 66s which had given him a good shot at his second victory of the year.

"I'm not going to worry about that," Sanders said before today's pro-am preliminary to the opening of the $100,000 Jacksonville tournament on the 7,075-yard Deerwood Club course. "I'm all fired up again and I think I can win on this course."

PUTTING WORRIES

"I've got to do a lot of work on my putter, because that's what started by trouble at Orlando," Sanders said. "I started missing putts and then I just lost my desire.

"I've got to be fired up to win, because I'm not much unless I've got the desire," said Sanders, who finished tied for 10th at Orlando after leading the first two rounds and taking the Doral Open title the previous week.

"Of course, everybody else here thinks he can win, too," Sanders added, and most of his challengers also have putting problems.

COMPLAINTS

Arnold Palmer, leading money winner of the year, has been complaining about missing little putts although he tied for second at Orlando, and Gary Player and Jack Nicklaus also have had trouble on the greens.

Julius Boros, however, isn't squawking about his putter. The 47-year-old father of seven won the Citrus Open for his second 1967 triumph which has given him his best start in 17 years as a pro.

"The reason I'm playing better," Boros said "is that 25 and 60-foot putts are dropping in That makes a lot of difference."

Boros will be trying to become the first player to win three tournaments this year. So will Palmer, winner of the Los Angeles and Tucson championships.

TOP NAMES

All of golf's top names — with the exception of Billy Casper — are in the tournament, being played for the first time at the Deerwood Clb which has a par 72.

Hottest of the dark horses are Canadian George Knudson, who tied for second at Orlando; Dean Refram, tiny Floridian who picked up his biggest check in six years on the tour for his fourth-place Citrus finish, and Mason Rudolph, who tied for fifth at Orlando and was 10 strokes under par on his last three rounds after an opening 74.

TARS ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

Pieper's Proud Of Growth At Marin College Campus

By RALPH CHATOIAN

His time now is taken up by administrative details, mostly with the physical education expansion going on at the Kentfield campus. And Pieper's so proud of the college's P.E. growth he's bustin' his buttons.

"Today we have a more diversified program of physical education and athletics than any other school in Northern California," beams Pieper. "We have led the way in development of wrestling, judo, swimming, water polo, cross country and gymnastics on a junior college level."

ALL SPORTS

And it's true. While some junior colleges are holding activities to the major sports like football, basketball and baseball, Marin isn't missing a thing. You name a sport and Pieper will try to get it started at COM.

Although Pieper was born in Southern California (Alhambra), his family moved to the Bay Area when he was only one year old. He went to high school in San Leandro and then to University of California at Berkeley. At Cal he was captain of the frosh football team in 1941 and then the following year was an All-Coast center in his first year of varsity competition.

HARRY PIEPER
Ex-Cal star

His college was interrupted by World War II. Pieper, an Army infantry captain, served from Southern France to Germany. After the war he returned to Cal and got in two more years of football, the first year under Frank Wickhorst, noted as Cal's worst coach, and the second under Lynn "Pappy" Waldorf, noted as the best Cal coach.

FIRST, LAST

Waldorf's first year of coaching, 1947, was Pieper's last year of college football. Waldorf went on to post a record of 67 wins and 32 losses in his 10 years of Cal coaching.

From Cal, Pieper got his first coaching assignment at College of Marin. He didn't have to work his way up from the high school ranks, as his name was well known around these parts because of his football playing for the Bears.

At Marin, Pieper was assistant football coach with Arleigh Williams (now dean of students at Cal) and Irwin P. (Red) Diamond (now dean of students at College of Marin), and was head track coach. During his coaching days, he even had tennis and skiing.

He became head football coach in 1954 and in 1956 was named junior college "Coach of the Year" by sportswriters. Dick Read, present Marin grid coach, took over in 1961. By then, Pieper, who was named athletic director five years earlier, was too busy with his dual role.

UP IN SMOKE

Pieper sadly watched College of Marin's athletic history go up in smoke when fire destroyed the old gym and its contents in December of 1963. Those facilities were a far cry from the $1,500,000 physical education complex now at the college. And Pieper has watched the growth from paper to the actual thing.

Harry and his wife, Lenore, have two sons, Rod, a senior at Terra Linda High, and Steve, eighth grader at Santa Venetia Junior High.

BASEBALL ROUNDUP

Rookies Steal The Show

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Tim Cullen and Jackie Warner aren't asking for much.

Cullen is just trying to hit singles and Warner is just trying to make a major league ball club. They got the right kind of results yesterday.

A rookie second baseman who chokes far up on the bat, Cullen delivered a grand slam home run that gave the Washington Senators an 8-4 win over Kansas City. Warner, who isn't even on the California Angels' roster, stroked a single, double and homer and batted in five runs to lead the Angels to a 7-2 decision over Cleveland.

Late inning scoring gave the Twins a 1-0 victory over the Mets, the Reds a 12-9 decision over the Cardinals, the Phillies a 7-4 win over the Astros and the White Sox a 5-4 margin over the Reds.

Cullen, who hit only two home runs in 431 at bats for Hawaii last season, nailed the first pitch thrown to him by Kansas City hurler Bob Meyer in the sixth inning to break up a 4-4 tie and carry the Senators to their third win in six spring training contests.

YOUNG SLUGGER

The Angels won their third in four starts thanks in large part to Warner's heavy hitting. The young outfielder, who started for the Angels early last season but was sent to the minors later in the year, collected four of his RBI's by homering in the first inning with one aboard and by slamming a two-run double in the ninth.

Minnesota waited until the bottom of the ninth to hand the Mets their first spring training loss. Caesar Tovar's squeze bunt with two out in the final frame brought home the only run of the game as Dean Chance, Jim Perry and Mudcat Grant allowed but two singles and a walk in their combined shutout.

It was a different story in the Reds-Cards free-for-all. Leo Cardenas had four RBI's and four hits, including a home run, while St. Louis committed six errors in a game that saw the Cards score five times in the third and Cincinnati score a total of five runs in the seventh and eighth.

PHILS EXPLODE

The Phillies also exploded in the seventh and eighth. Four runs in those two frames combined with shutout pitching in the last five innings by Chris Short brought the Phils back from an early 4-0 deficit.

Boston held the White Sox to one hit through the first eight innings, but Chicago used Ed Stroud's doubles and triples by Don Buford and Tom McCraw to push over three ninth-inning runs and gain the victory.

In yesterday's other exhibition games the Dodgers again received surprisingly strong hitting to whip the Tigers 8-2 and the Yankees again received surprisingly strong pitching to down the Braves 5-0. The Chicago Cubs came from behind to win their third straight, 5-4 over the Giants.

DODGERS SCORING

Los Angeles, last in the National League in runs during 1966 has now scored 18 in two days. Ron Fairly's three-run homer led the way as the Dodgers blitzed for a total of seven runs in the fourth and fifth innings.

Yankee pitchers racked up their second shut out in two days, as Atlanta suffered its first loss of the spring. Fritz Peterson hurled five inning of three-hit ball and Elston Howard highlighted a four-run fourth inning with a two-run double.

Seals Vs. 'Cousns' Tonight

OAKLAND (UPI)—The California Seals need to continue their hex over San Diego tonight at 8 o'clock in the Oakland Arena.

The Seals have won 8 out of 8 against the cellar-dwellers and can climb back into a tie for fourth with a ninth victory.

The Gulls bring the league's top goal-maker to town in Capt. Fred Hilts, who has tallied four hat tricks and 39 goals. He has six of his scores against California.

Hottest Seal againt San Diego has been Danny Belisle, with eight goals and four assists. Belisle has not been scoring points lately and coach Charley Burns hopes that the sight of the orange and blue jerseys of his San Diego cousins will get him going again.

Mo Mantha is doubtful for tonight after stopping a puck with his cheek while forward Stan Gilbertson, victim of a similar mishap two weeks ago, also is out of action for the Seals.

TRADES

Miami quarterback said. "I don't want to sit on the bench. I haven't changed my mind and I'll still play out my option if I'm not traded."

Norton and Wilson were roommates, did not have starting jobs with the 49ers and said they were happy about going to Atlanta.

Oakland general manager Scotty Stirling said there were good reasons for trading away his 30-year-old stars.

"Powell asked to be traded to an Eastern Division team so he could be near Canada, where he has lived in the past. And you always hate to give up players like Tom, who's one of our originals, and had such an outstanding season last year.

"But the Raiders have always made trades with the idea of building for the future and we hope this follows along this line."

Powell, a perennial All-AFL selection who said he was not unhappy with the trade, caught 53 passes for 1,026 yards and 11 touchdowns last season. Bass, 28, was bothered by an ankle injury last season and caught only 10 passes for 130 yards.

Flores hit 151 times in 306 attempts for 2,638 yards and 24 touchdowns. Lamonica, 26, who played behind Jack Kemp, completed 33 of 84 passes and tossed four touchdown aerials.

Sadecki Has To Get His Confidence Back

By JACK STEVENSON

The 26-year-old pitcher, who joined San Francisco last May 8 in trade for slugger Orlando Cepeda, won only three games for the Giants, who lost the pennant by 1½ games.

Nobody is more eager than Sadecki to find out why a pitcher who won 20 games for St. Louis in 1964 and two for the Cardinals last April before the trade couldn't find himself in San Francisco.

The 68-year-old Shellenback, officially a scout in the Giants organization, has helped scores of hurlers so this time drew the assignment of working with Sadecki, who figures again in a key role.

"Motion pictures can show him what he's doing wrong and convince him quicker than anything," says Shellenback. "We'll go right back to fundamentals. He was good and he went off of it. This fellow has got to get confidence. . .confidence in himself and get to know he can put the ball where he wants it."

Also, he believes proper balance brings maximum performance, so perhaps there will be some changes in the Sadecki delivery, "so it comes as natural as walking."

Shellenback believes Sadecki has been finishing his delivery with one leg in the air instead of on the ground and is not in balance.

"He is falling toward third base so he doesn't have the control," the veteran coach explains. "Balance is the answer to maximum speed and control, plus the fact you're doing the same thing every time and batters can't guess what pitch you're throwing."

Receptive to the idea of the special coaching, Sadecki can't put his finger on the cause of his 1966 troubles, except he didn't have the control.

"I was throwing the ball good but not pitching well," he says. "When you're throwing to spots and missing them, it's frustrating, like throwing a curve ball for the dirt and getting it up around the neck."

On Sept. 6 against Los Angeles, Ray pitched a three-hit shutout and that time he was hitting the spots.

"I was throwing the ball the same, but getting it where I wanted it," he says while still wondering why the difference.

The personable lefty makes no excuses although there naturally were adjustments to be made with a new team even though he was pitching to the same batters.

"I have been looking forward all winter to coming to spring training with this club, starting out with them and trying to earn a chance to pitch."

Regan Has A New Weapon

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — National League hitters beware!

Phil Regan, who led major league relief pitchers last season, has a new weapon in his arsenal. He says he's going to start throwing curve balls this season.

That would have pleased the late Charlie Dressen, who managed Regan at Detroit. Dressen used to tell Regan that he should throw the curve more often. Regan didn't agree and was banished to Syracuse in 1965 after five seasons with the Tigers.

When he came to the Los Angeles Dodgers, in a trade a year ago, Regan relied on two pitches —a slider and a sinker. Rival hitters insist that the sinker is a spitter. At any rate, the 29-year-old right-hander had a fantastic season. He had a 14-1 record, gained 17 saves and had a 1.62 earned run average.

Regan was named "fireman of the year" in the majors and also was comeback player of the year. But he isn't satisfied.

"I want to throw the curve this year to give the hitters something else to look for," the 6-foot, 3-inch, 200-pounder said.

"I never agreed with Dressen about throwing a lot of curves, because it isn't my best pitch. But it's something I should do more of this year."

Regan relieved in 65 Dodger games last season and participated in 39 of their 95 victories. He didn't consider it an exhausting season until he had to appear in 13 of the 18 games the club played on a barn-storming tour of Japan last fall.

It was the Dodgers' first venture without 29 - game winner Sandy Koufax, who had announced his retirement.

"I went to Japan thinking I'd get a rest," says Regan. "What happened there made me think that I'm in trouble if this is what it's going to be like without Sandy."

There will be free gym nights at Davidson Junior High schools on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 7 to 10 and Wednesdays at Santa Venetia at the same time.

At San Rafael High School, there's a Young Adults Volleyball night from 7:30 to 10 on Tuesdays.

Terra Linda Weightlifter Wins Division

Ed Maniscalco of Santa Venetia, a freshman at Terra Linda High School, won the 148-pound division at the California Weightlifting Championships held last Saturday at the Berkeley YMCA.

Maniscalco, who also for the first time was awarded a trophy for the best weightlifter of the day, pressed 176 pounds, snatched 154 and made a 220-pound clean-and-jerk to total 511 points.

Lee Freel and Bob Cobbler, both of San Rafael, notched second and fourth respectively in the 123 pound class. Freel amassed 247 points with a press of 110 pounds, a snatch of 99 and a clean-and-jerk of 138 pounds.

Tar Baseballers Third In Tourney

The Tars whipped Chabot, 5-3, in the opener behind winning pitcher Ron Gillam, then lost, 5-9, to Laney and 1-6 to Chabot to be eliminated.

The tourney has not been concluded with the final two games being rained out Saturday.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Avoid Stampede In Buying Stocks

By ROGER E. SPEAR

(Q) "My husband is ill and on Medicare. We have $6,000 in series H bonds; American Telephone; Union Carbide; $13,000 in savings. Our income is sufficient. There is so much talk about buying stock, we wonder if we should add immediately to our share holdings — and if so, what?" —D.R.

(A) Please accept my sincere sympathy on your husband's illness. I would never allow myself to be stampeded into buying stocks simply because there is so much talk about them. Very frequently that is an indication of too great public participation and a signal to watch your step. I'm first going to suggest some realignment of your present holdings.

American telephone is satisfactory for moderate yield and growth. Union Carbide is good stock but it has shown little rise in dividends or price over the past ten years. I advise you to switch into Corn Products which has a better record of increased dividends and appreciation during the same period. If you can afford some lesser return, I would invest no more than $5,000 of cash savings in equal dollar amounts of Avon Products and Consolidated Foods. These changes would strengthen your position materially as regards long-term inflation.

Q. "I have money from which I need to derive the greatest possible income. I am too old for growth stocks. I could buy an insurance annuity which would make monthly payments at the rate of 8¼ per cent annually. Some people don't like annuities. Why? I would appreciate your suggestion." G. B.

A. Some people don't like annuities because they are fixed as to income and offer no protection against inflation. Others have heirs and are concerned about leaving an estate. If you are not restrained by either of these considerations, I advise you to buy a straight life annuity. The rate of return you mention is far higher than you can get from any other safe form of investment.

Choice Issues Push Wall Street Higher

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed higher today with selected issues strong. Trading was active.

It was another ten-million-share day as Schenley paced the list on volume and rolled up a gain of 10 points or so on news that Schenley and Lorillard had agreed in principle on merger. Schenley plunged 11⅞ Tuesday on false rumors the merger was off.

Lorillard also was strong, showing a gain of close to half a dozen points.

Bright pieces of corporate news inspired some well-known issues and sparked the market. Congressional committee action on reinstating the 7 per cent investment tax credit also was cheering.

Chrysler showed early leadership, climbing more than 2 points on news of its sales improvement. Other auto stocks followed along, General Motors rising more than a point. Ford almost a point and American Motors a fraction.

American Air Lines spurted more than 2 points on news of its proposed 2-for-1 stock split and raised dividend. United Airlines also rose more than 2, Pan American more than a point.

Schenley opened on a delayed block of 118,000 shares, up 10¾ at 60¾ on overnight news that the company had agreed in principle to merge with Lorillard whose stock jumped more than 4 points. Schenley plunged 11⅞ Tuesday on a false rumor that merger talks had ceased.

IBM climbed 7 points, Du Pont 3, Xerox almost 3. Rayonier and Merck were down about 2 each.

Up a point or so were Schering, First Western Financial, United Nuclear, Commonwealth Oil and General Electric.

Prices rose generally on the American Stock Exchange.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

New Investment Securities Office Opens In San Rafael

A new investment securities office — Charles J. Francis Co. — has opened at 1435 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

This is a sort of successor to the Mill Valley-headquartered firm of Francis and Murray Inc., which closed down operations in January as a result of stockholders voting to dissolve. (Not closed for financial reasons. Since then the company has been active in distributing its assets.)

Charles J. Francis headed that firm as president and is now the principal in this one. He will also preserve and maintain records of the dissolving corporation for its customers and their accountants at the San Rafael office and he expects to continue serving many of the former accounts.

He will offer brokerage services in the purchase and sale of stocks, bonds and mutual funds and give financial planning assistance for family programs. The new firm will maintain a direct open wire to Brush, Slocumb and Co., Inc., San Francisco, as did Francis and Murray. Brush, Slocumb is a member of the New York Stock Exchange and other exchanges.

Francis says he will also maintain a consultation office in Mill Valley.

A NEW RENTAL EQUIPMENT department has been opened at Jim Corbet's Home Craftsman's Store on Magnolia Avenue, Larkspur. Owner Jim Corbet's brother Cliff, who has moved here from Vancouver, B.C., will be in charge.

OPENING IN the Pacheco Plaza Shopping Center in June will be a new store of M. C. McDonald, who now has McDonald's Jewelers in Mill Valley. He will keep the Mill Valley store and call the new one McDonald's Plaza Jewelers.

JOHN PHILIP SIMPSON JR. of Mill Valley has been promoted to manager of the Klamath Falls, Ore. retail store of Sears, Roebuck and Co. A Sears employee since 1948, he has progressed through various supervisory and management positions in Washington and California. Since last May he has been operating superintendent of the San Francisco Geary Street retail store.

Simpson

ANOTHER JEWELER expanding his business is John Bicknell of San Rafael, who has had a watchmaker and jewelry shop upstairs at 210 Post Street, San Francisco for the past 10 years. He has recently taken over Alcazar Jewelry at 115 O'Farrell Street in the city and remodeled the store. He will keep both businesses in operation.

INDUSTRIAL CONSULTANT Dr. George Sugarman of Tiburon will open another course in "Effective Leadership and Management" at the San Rafael High School, beginning March 30. The course, under the spring business administration extension program of Univesrity of California, will be held in Room 3 of the high school on Thursday evenings from 7 to 10 p.m.

Fee is $40. The class is being limited to 25, so early registrations are suggested. Enrollment can be made through the Business Administration Extension, University of California in Berkeley.

JOSEPH CRESALIA of San Rafael, a San Francisco jeweler, will discuss the world of jewels on KPIX's "Potpourri" Easter Sunday, March 26, at 10:30 a.m. Highlights of the program will include the mining of diamonds, legends and curses about rare stones and how to determine the value of diamonds.

HENRY SHOBAR of Larkspur, owner of Ad Specialties Unlimited in San Francisco, is attending the Specialty Advertising Association semi-annual trade show in Chicago this week. It is expected to be the largest exhibition in the association's history.

RUSSELL C. TROUP of San Rafael, representative of Equitable Life Assurance Society in Marin County, took part in the company's three-day pension planning institute in San Mateo last week.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Meals, Lodging Can Be Deducted

By PETER J. WIKEL, CPA

Meals and lodging received from your employer may be tax-free to you, as the code says:

"There shall be excluded from gross income of an employee the value of any meals or lodging furnished to him by his employer for the convenience of the employer, but only if —

Wikel

"1. In the case of meals, the meals are furnished on the business premises of the employer, or

"2. In the case of lodging, the employee is required to accept such lodging on the business premises of his employer as a condition of his employment."

This seems to clearly indicate that if you receive meals on the business premises of your employer that they are not taxable income to you and that the fair market value of lodgings furnished to you are not taxable income to you if you are required by your employer to actually live at the site of your job. For instance, an apartment house manager's apartment, etc.

The Social Security tax does not follow this rule.

Dad Can Have More Say Over Teen-Age Drivers

A jurist, with considerable experience in handling juveniles who run afoul of the law, once declared that in his opinion, liquor and cars are big factors in the increase in juvenile crimes.

In today's affluent society, most young people have access to cars, either their own or the second family car. They also have the means to purchase gasoline for extended drives and to buy liquid refreshments with which to fortify themselves for the excursions.

With the increased mobility of the younger generation, parental control has weakened to the point where some parents throw up their hands and appeal to the court to do something for them.

Michigan has a law that gives parents complete control over the driving privileges of children under 18 years of age. It may be a poor reflection on the parents to have to rely on the law to control the activities of their offspring. But since parental authority seems to have slipped to that point in some instances, a similar law for California might well be considered by our legislators in Sacramento.

The Michigan law, passed in 1965, operates this way: A parent or guardian must agree in writing to accept responsibility for drivers under 18 years of age. In order to revoke the license of their child or ward, a parent merely has to dispatch an 11-word note to the Secretary of State.

A note from the parent stating: "I no longer wish to be responsible for my child's driving," is a mandate for cancellation of the youth's driver's license.

Once done, the issue is closed. A pleading teen-ager may be able to talk Mom or Dad into reconsidering, but not the Secretary of State. Only after he has turned 18 can a cancelled youth reapply for a license with or without parental approval.

"Actually, it is much more effective than a club," said Milan Clark, who administers the law in Michigan.

With such a law in the books, the gentlest reminder by a parent to a child to exercise caution on the highways would carry tremendous wallop. If the child persists in violating parental orders, the law would give the parent an opportunity to say, "Look, you've had your chance and you haven't learned. Until you do, I'm taking you off the road."

Most of our youngsters already comply with rules of safety and with their parents' wishes. Such drivers would continue to enjoy their driving privileges. The more careless ones might be induced to become more responsible.

A law that operates successfully in Michigan may not necessarily be suited to California. But a similar law, which puts the responsibility for actions of minors in the laps of parents where it rightfully belongs, is something that should be given study in Sacramento.

FULLY AUTOMATED FLIGHTS PREDICTED

Within 10 years all U.S. airplanes will navigate by a master ground-based computer linked by radio to an airborne automatic control system, according to one aeronautical designer.

The scientist, a member of the Advanced Scientific Planning of National Aeronautical Corporation, forecast that the computer will be automatically watched by a collision avoidance system. This would override the computer control if an impending collision is detected, then shut off after danger has passed.

The designer said that the basic technology to fulfill these predictions is already known. What remains, he added, is hard engineering effort to reduce this knowledge to practical performance.

Most of us would welcome a fool-proof "computer system" that could guide us through the maze of decisions and choices that make up our lives.

Take heart in the fact that by trusting in God and seeking the guidance of persons wiser than yourself, you will less likely to go astray.

McAteer Bill Would Extend Provisions For Crime Victims

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — California's penchant for taking care of its citizens reached a new high when Sen. J. Eugene McAteer, D-San Francisco, introduced amendments extending the provisions for aiding innocent citizens who are victims of violent crimes.

Under present law, such aid is available to such victims through the State Department of Social Welfare, which has an annual appropriation of $100,000 to individuals, or the families of individuals, who might be injured as the victims of violent crimes.

ONE TROUBLE with the law, is that it forbids aid unless a victim meets elgibility standards which substantially are like those for families with aid to dependent children.

The senator says that many crime victims resent being treated like welfare cases, as they must demonstrate need for the state aid before they meet the requirements.

Consequently, McAteer has introduced a "reform" bill which would remove the program from the welfare department, and place it under the jurisdiction of the state board of control. The board approves or disapproves claims against the state, and those approved later go to the state legislature for confirmation.

The McAteer measure should not be confused with the state's "good Samaritan" law, which also is handled by the state board of control.

This law enacted from a bill by Sen. George Miller, D-Contra Costa County, was also enacted in 1965, and it provides for state aid or compensation as the case may be, for persons who are injured while aiding a crime victim, or while helping police make an arrest.

STATISTICS INDICATE that some claims under the good Samaritan act will go before the legislature for payment this year. The board has no fixed appropriation, and the legislature appropriates funds when it approves the claims.

Under the McAteer proposals for revision of the compensation to injured victims, a damage maximum would be $5,000. Fairly extensive reports from the attorney general would be required for the state board of control before action could be taken on a claim.

REPORTS FROM the department of social welfare indicate that 32 persons sought and received aid under the McAteer bill during 1966. The program's costs, says the department, are running just below the $100,000 annual appropriation.

The senator said at least nine other states and the U. S. Congress are thinking seriously of beginning similar programs, and New York has a law and such a program under way.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Duck Treatment Is Most Unkind

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Could I ask, are golfers considered sportsmen, if so what kind is it that torture a harmless bird? A man playing the course at San Geronimo Golf Club was seen to catch a duck from the pond there, tie a wire around one leg, tie the other end of the wire to an iron bar, and throw the duck back into the water. This happened a couple of days ago.

These ducks are pets to many small children who come to feed and watch them, they are all quite tame, were hatched here on this pond, and hand raised.

Any so-called sportsman who would commit this kind of an act is the type who speeds up his car on the highway when he spots a small animal in front of him, in the hope that he may be able to run it down, he is a very sick human being.

I think it is a short step from acts of this kind against animals, to the same sort of treatment of helpless children and old people.

Let us hope that any sane person seeing someone committing such an act will report them to the proper authorities.

Child Centers Bill Is Important

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Sen. Alan Short has introduced a very important bill (SB-242) concerning child development centers. Nowhere in California would the impact of this bill be felt more than in Marin.

The bill would (1) eliminate parent fees, (2) increase state apportionment from 83 cents per hour to a maximum of $1.75 per hour, and (3) increase transportation allotment.

You can help the cause of the mentally retarded child by writing to Senator Short, Sen. John F. McCaarthy and Assemblyman William T. Bagley, indicating your support of the bill.

My son is mentally retarded. I am not writing this for understanding or sympathy. I am writing this for fair practice for a United States citizen, whether he be normal or mentally retarded.

The real issue in Marin is that they have gone for state aid, which is fine, except now a parent with a mentally retarded child is not only paying property tax for normal public schools but must in addition pay for special schooling—KMR (Kindergarten for Mentally Retarded).

I will, of course, pay if I must. But the burden of an abnormal child is already on my family, including my children, without adding a cost to his schooling.

Senator Short's bill helps correct some of the inequities. It doesn't take care of the age limit, but does waive the parental fee. I ask for public support of the bill.

Marvelous Spring In Marin Again

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Springtime in Marin! What a delightful time of year. How grateful we are to have the privilege of living here.

Had the happy experience of driving by Magnolia Avenue and Piedmont Road in Larkspur the other evening and seeing the beautiful "tulip tree."

Thank you, good neighbors, for letting the light shine so everyone may enjoy it.

Younger People Increasing Problem

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The arrest of 19 young persons in Inverness on charges ranging from drug possession to being destitute, sharply focusses an increasing problem of a section of our younger population in the Bay Area.

In view of our ridiculous drug laws which are as unenforcable as prohibition, it would appear to me that a program of rehabilitation for these unfortunate persons is indicated. We frequently read reports about hardened criminals who can afford high priced lawyers and rapidly are released from custody to again prey on society. In contrast, the unfortunate "hippy," with a sole desire to be left alone, and with no threat to any section of the community is harassed and hauled off to jail with little recourse to rehabilitation and becoming a useful citizen.

It is quite possible that the "hippy" is representative of the failure of a section of our society, and as such merely represents a symptom rather than the disease. Accordingly, we are reluctant to stoop to critical self-examination, but dismiss these unfortunate young people as being "beat and worthless," when in reality they represent our own failures!

The challenge which lies before us is to examine why these young people have turned their backs on normally accepted standards of behavior — why they subconsciously reject anything that is "square." Even more important is the challenge which lies before us, in making these young persons useful citizens and at the same time ascertain just where they feel that the community has failed them.

Faith Restored For Help Given

Editor, Independent-Journal:

My faith in people has been restored! . . .

A very sad occurence happened the other evening. We arrived home to find our beloved animal lying dead. I called a gentlemen, and I use this word in every sense, from a local vet. hospital, who had kindly given me his telephone number in San Francisco with instructions to call at any time during the evening in case of emergency.

He came within a half hour, took charge. . . . the dog was not dead as we believed, but in a coma. He took him to the hospital, contacted the Dr. and stayed with him until close to midnight, calling us at regular intervals to give us reports. He then took him to his own home in order that he could further watch him during the evening. Unfortunately, the dog died during the early a.m.

All the above was not a part of this man's job. He did it because he was truly a friend of our animal and a kind person. He made a very harrowing experience easier in knowing our Teddi was in familiar hands. A million dollars, a yacht, nor a simple thanks could never repay this deed. This man will always have our continued gratitude and respect, and his kindness will never be forgotten. His employers can be very, very proud indeed to have this person representing their very excellent establishment.

In this day and age, it is very rare indeed to find someone who still cares enough to give that extra something of themselves, asking nothing in return. Maybe there is still hope for this old world!

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

TO SAY THAT Joe Kennedy, father of the most famous clan in all America, is in the chips is putting it mildly, of course. Economists figure that his holdings must be worth a minimum of 250 million. Yet Joe Kennedy has never ceased impressing upon his offspring the virtue of economizing. According to Paul B. Fay, author of "The Pleasure of His Company," Papa Kennedy expostulated at a family dinner one evening in 1959, "No one of you appears to have the slightest concern for how much you spend." To which soon-to-be-elected-President John F. Kennedy replied, "I think we've all come to the conclusion, Dad, that the only solution is for you to work harder."

THE EDITOR of a New Hampshire weekly had some empty space to fill so he ran the Ten Commandments—with no editorial comment whatever. The next day he received this instruction: "Cancel my subscription. You're getting too personal."

U Thant May Be Able To Devise Way To Break Vietnam Deadlock

WASHINGTON — Is there no way to break the deadlock between Hanoi and Washington to achieve Vietnam peace talks? There is.

Hanoi says there must be an "unconditional and permanent" end to the bombing before negotiations can begin.

Washington says there can be no cessation of the bombing unless there is reciprocal cessation of the infiltration of men and arms.

THE PURPOSE of this column is:

1. To show why the U.S. is not acting upon the Soviet assurance that peace talks can begin ayntime we stop bombing.

2. To outline what might be a prudent and workable way to break the deadlock between Hanoi and Washington which would not one-sidedly disadvantage the U.S.

Should the U.S. end the bombing on the assurance that peace talks could then promptly begin?

When critics of the President's course in Vietnam raise this question, they leave the impression that there couldn't possibly be a sensible answer other than yes. Some, who may have forgotten the lessons of Korea, may assume that the beginning of peace talks means moving the Vietnam war from the battlefield to the conference table.

It doesn't

HANOI GIVES NO such assurance and in Korea the Communists carried on the fighting to the very end of the talks in order to influence the negotiations. There is no reason to believe it would be otherwise in Vietnam. Therefore, the reason we do not accept an end to the bombing as the price for beginning negotiations is that we would be throwing away the deterrent of air power while North Vietnam would be retaining, unimpeded, its infiltration of men and arms into South Vietnam.

Is there, then, no way to break the deadlock?

There may be, and the one who could promote a possibly acceptable middle course, with some concession on both sides, and, perhaps, bring it off, is U Thant, Secretary General of the United Nations.

MR. THANT has already established direct contact with the North Vietnamese while he was in Burma recently. Mr. Thant has just returned from these talks with the conviction which he has had all along, that a halt to our air attacks would "contribute to useful talks" and that otherwise the war "will be prolonged and bloody."

What could Mr. Thant do?

He could use his good offices to solicit from Hanoi a solemn undertaking not to exploit a cessation of U. S. air attacks, a solemn undertaking to refrain from moving any forces or material into the South during the cessation and to permit United Nations inspectors to verify the observance of such an arrangement.

This, it seems to me, would be a practical stand-still agreement: suspension of the bombing in the North and, subsequently, reciprocal action by Hanoi to suspend movements into the South.

IN SUCH AN arrangement there is a concession on both sides. The U.S. would stop the bombing before anything else took place; it would do so on the personal and private assurance from Mr. Thant that he had privately obtained the understanding with Hanoi.

Hanoi's intention to reciprocate by a cessation of movement of forces and materiel into the South would follow the cessation of the bombing and would not be publicly affirmed until after the bombing had actually ceased.

Russ Woo Senators Who Favor Treaty

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, who voted to ratify the U.S.-Soviet consular treaty, are being invited to visit the Soviet Union.

The invitations are being extended by Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin, who is personally contacting each member to urge him to make the trip.

SEN. ALBERT GORE, D-Tenn., one of the first to accept the invitation, was told during his luncheon with Dobrynin that meetings with Soviet Premier Kosygin and other high Russian officials would be arranged.

Dobrynin, who can be seen almost daily at the Capitol, has informed other committee members that invitations will be extended during the year to all members of Congress who favor improved relations with the Soviet Union.

In his private talks with the senators, Dobrynin ruled out any exchange of visits between Kosygin and President Johnson until a settlement in Vietnam is reached, stating:

THE GROWING VIETNAM policy feud between President Johnson and Sen. Robert Kennedy is having its impact on military operations.

Apparently sensitive to Kennedy's criticism of the bombing of North Vietnam, the President has temporarily shelved an urgent request by the U. S. Military Command in Saigon for night bombing raids against the growing buildup of enemy forces north of the Demilitarized Zone.

Under the presently imposed tight White House restrictions, only daytime bombing attacks can be launched against North Vietnam targets because of the administration's growing concern about civilian casualties. Authorization of radar-controlled night bombings, similar to those permitted in South Vietnam, was requested by General Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, the day before Senator Kennedy made his "halt-the-bombing" speech.

INTRODUCED INTO the conflict ten months ago, night bombing attacks were halted over North Vietnam after New York Times correspondent Harrison Salisbury stirred up a furor over civilian casualties with his guided-tour reports from Hanoi.

The night raids, which have proven to be nearly as accurate as day bombing, employ the newly developed MSQ-77 radar system. This system permits ground or air controllers to guide U.S. planes to their targets and automatically releases their bombs.

FRENCH DIPLOMATS with pipelines to Hanoi report that there is a group of North Vietnam officials who are saying that, what ever the privations, they want to keep the war going to frustrate President Johnson's re-election in 1968. . . In conversations with Democratic lawmakers, President Johnson frankly charges that Kennedy's statements on Vietnam are designed to scuttle his re-election in 1968. The President points out to callers that Kennedy's proposals are aimed at winning over the estimated 9,300,000 new voters who will be eligible in 1968 to cast their first presidential ballots. . . . Voter projections by the Census Bureau indicate that by 1972, 23,400,000 will have passed the 21-year-old mark and be eligible to vote.

Now There's Renewed Interest In High School For Tiburon

The proposed school recently has popped back into the news. As I said "Hello" one day to Bette Wallace, currently a board member of the Tamalpais High School District and a candidate for a new term, I found her spilling over with enthusiasm on the subject.

Mrs. Wallace's comments went back to Jan. 12, when the Tamalpais board ordered working drawings for San Geronimo High School and signed purchase papers for a high school site on the Tiburon Peninsula.

"EXTENDED SESSIONS will begin in September at Drake High," said Mrs. Wallace, who foresaw the same thing happening at Redwood in the near future. "Tamalpais High School is full to bursting. . . . We have run out of time." From now on she said, "the going will be rough for students and teachers alike."

The Tamalpais board, at its March meeting, accepted her recommendation to appoint a citizens' committee to study the building and fiscal needs for both proposed schools.

"Tiburon is the major growth area in the Southern part of the district," she said Another point for the Tiburon school, she felt, was that "it would take 800 to 1,000 students off highway 101."

HOW WOULD THE Reed School District feel about the high school, since it is soon faced with a bond issue to build another elementary school

Jim Atkin, chairman of the Reed board of trustees, felt the district "needs another elementary school" but "another high school is needed in the county, as well."

One result of the Tiburon school, Atkin felt, would be that "it would solve some of our unification problems." He explained that "one objection to previous unification plans has been that there is only one high school in southern Marin."

Leo Souza, who organized an Ad Hoc committee last June to work towards a Tiburon high school, disclosed last week the committee has been reactivated because of the renewed interest in the high school and because of the news that the Tam district has decided to appoint citizens committees to study phases of the high school development program.

THE AD HOC COMMITTEE is offering to serve as a whole or individually in the study project, if the district wants to include it among its citizens committees. Souza, a former member of the Reed district board, is running again this year.

Souza stated enrollment on the Tiburon Peninsula is greater than any other area in the Tamalpais district. He felt a successful bond issue for a high school is unlikely unless the Tiburon school is included.

Last Thursday, a condemnation settlement in favor of the Tamalpais High School District for the Belveron Gardent site was confirmed by Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court, for $250,000.

DAVE RING RECENTLY resigned from the Reed Board to run for the Tam board and is a wholehearted supporter of a Tiburon high school. Ring, who appeared at many Tamalpais board meetings during his eight years on the Reed board, says "the issue of building additional high school classrooms has become even more critical since November, 1965, when the bond issue failed."

Two Marinites Suffer Minor Auto Injuries

Two Marin residents were treated for minor injuries at Marin General Hospital Monday night after accidents on San Rafael streets.

Esther Weeks of 20 Andrew Drive, Tiburon, was cut on the lip when her car collided at 5:25 p.m. with one driven by John W. Frederick of 50 Sullivan Lane, Novato, at Fourth and Irwin streets. Police cited Mrs. Weeks for failing to yield the right of way while making a left turn.

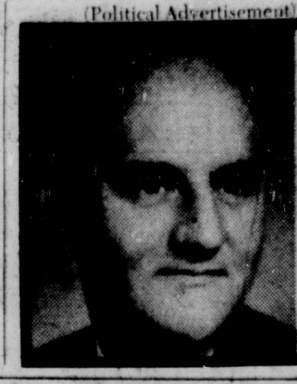

Chester T. Giles, 54, of 273 C Street, San Rafael, suffered minor bruises when he was struck by a car driven by Florence I. Catteyson of 44 Bothin Road, Fairfax, at 8:30 p.m. on A Street, San Rafael.

Police reports said the driver stopped at the crosswalk and had just started the car moving again when she saw Giles too late to stop. X-rays showed no fracture.

Ordinance Hearing

A special meeting of the Tiburon Planning Commission has been called for tomorrow at 8 p.m. at City Hall to discuss the proposed zoning ordinance with the city's new project consultant for the ordinance, George T. Gatter.

Here's A Way You Can Fight The War Is In The Living Room

WASHINGTON — The debate on Vietnam has been escalating along with the fighting, and now it's rare to go to a party and not get into a hot fight over what we should or should not be doing there.

Prof. Heinrich Applebaum, the military analyst of Seventeen magazine, has just written a book titled "How to Fight the Vietnam War in the Living Room." It is the only book written for both doves and hawks and I was happy to interview him about it the other day.

"This war will not be won in the rice paddies of the Mekong Delta, but rather in the salons and renovated basements of the American home," Applebaum told me.

"How does one start a discussion on the Vietnamese war?"

"The best way is to say 'I agree we shouldn't have been there in the first place, but. . .' It's a perfect opener if you're a hawk and it shows you're willing to concede that the government has made mistakes."

"Your opening line should be 'I'm not for just pulling out and leaving South Vietnam in the lurch, but. . .' This should prove to your listeners that you're a man of reason and you're not going to get emotional about the issue."

"As a hawk, what should you do next?"

"Mention Munich, the domino theory and our commitment to the free world, not necessarily in that order."

"And if you're a dove?"

"Talk about the stupidity of the French, the naivete of John Foster Dulles and the right for people to have their own revolutions without outside interference from the United States."

"How do you follow it up?"

"You have to quote sources. If you're a hawk, you quote Joe Alsop, Bob Hope, Cardinal Spellman, Barry Goldwater and Time magazine. If you're a dove, you refer to Walter Lippmann's last column, speeches by Sen. Fulbright and Robert F. Kennedy and testimony by Gen. Gavin, Robert Lowell and Joan Baez. Even if they didn't say something, you can always claim they did. No one in the living room is going to be able to check up on you."

"Don't you quote President Johnson, Secretary Dean Rusk or Robert McNamara?"

"Outsiders always know more," I agreed.

"Now if you see the argument is running down, you can always refer to a book you read on Vietnam. People are very impressed with anyone in the crowd who has read a book and it shows you've gone deeper into the subject than anyone else in the room."

"The best one is a title that no one has ever heard of, particularly if it's been written by someone with a foreign name. It will make the other side very mad and he'll have to come up with a book of his own."

"It gets harder as you go along," I said.

"But suppose you lose the argument?"

Unlocked House Burglary Probed

Sheriff's deputies yesterday reported the burglary of an unlocked house at the end of Spring Road in Lagunitas, owned by Joy McConnell of Newark, Del.

H. Carlton Travis, San Rafael real estate agent, said two tables, two chairs, and a lamp were stolen. Entry was by an unlocked door.

Church Variance Request Approved

Marin County Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill Monday approved a variance for the Valley Baptist Church to allow enlargement of a home at 6 Via Van Buren, east of San Rafael, for church youth activities.

Cordill also approved a variance for Carl Tornberg, allowing relocation of an ark at 29 Greenbrae Boardwalk.

Five Candidates For Council Due On Radio Panel

Candidates for San Rafael City Council in the April 10 election will be presented tomorrow on the radio KTIM discussion program, "Marin Sounding Board," at 9 a.m.

It will be the first of this year's political series. Future programs will feature candidates for Tamalpais High School District Board and Marin Junior College Board and will also deal with the proposed amendments to the San Rafael City Charter. Kitty Oppenheimer conducts the programs.

Speaking in tomorrow's broadcast will be candidates George S. Burton, Joseph D. Dahlman, John A. Miskimen, Gene O'Connor and Fred E. Jensen, who is seeking re-election. Candidate Orlando Conti will be unable to take part because of a prior committment, Mrs. Oppenheimer said.

The group will answer telephoned questions from listeners and a recording of the program will be broadcast Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

Special Space Programs Set For Schools

A program on American space exploration will be presented by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration late this month in San Rafael Elementary School District.

The program will include a lecture by Don Fandre of Ames Research Center of Moffett Field Naval Air Station, Sunnyvale, and a period of questions from students.

Models of past, present and future spacecraft will be set up as part of the program.

The program will be presented March 27 at Santa Venetia Middle School, with Santa Venetia students attending in the morning and students from Gallinas, Oliver Hartzell and John MacPhail schools in the afternoon.

On March 28, 29 and 30, the program will be set up at James B. Davidson Junior High School, with Davidson students attending the first day and fourth and fifth grade students from the district's elementary schools attending the other two days.

The program will be seen by all 2,900 of the district's fourth through eighth grade students, said Adrian van Herwynen, director of the "more able learners" program for the school district.

Tot Is Treated

Emily Klein, 2, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Harvey Z. Klein of 121 Buchanan Drive, Sausalito, was treated Monday night at Marin General Hospital for a possible overdose of medication. Firemen were called at 9:02 p.m. to rush a resuscitator to the Klein home, then took the little girl to the hospital.

Zoning Policy Plan Extended

Mill Valley Planning Commission Monday night recommended amendment of the city's zoning ordinance to extend planned residential district regulations to multiple and commercial districts, reported planning director Harvey E. Bragdon.

Commissioners also recommended that the county planning commission rezone several parcels on Homestead and Almonte boulevards from commercial to multi-family use, with provision that open area be provided in each parcel.
